Outside, America Hikaru Fujii, 2013-04-25 The idea of the outside as a space of freedom has always been central in the literature of the United States This concept still remains active in contemporary American fiction however its function is being significantly changed Outside America argues that among contemporary American novelists a shift of focus to the temporal dimension is taking place No longer a spatial movement the quest for the outside now seeks to reach the idea of time as a force of difference a la Deleuze by which the current subjectivity is transformed In other words the concept is taking a temporal turn Discussing eight novelists including Don DeLillo Richard Powers Paul Theroux and Annie Proulx each of whose works describe forces of given identities masculine identity historical temporality and power etc which block quests for the outside Fujii shows how the outside in these texts ceases to be a spatial idea With due attention to critical and social contexts the book aims to reveal a profound shift in contemporary American fiction
