

In this practical book, you will find the essential features that need to be taken into consideration during gestation, calving and the postpartum period in order to deal with calving successfully.

3 Physiology of calving: normal delivery

Stages of normal delivery

Calving takes place in three well-defined stages:

1. Distension stage
2. Partial expulsive stage
3. Effortful expulsive stage

Stage	Duration	Signs	Comments
Distension	6-18 hours	Mucus, micturition, reduced feed intake. Usually, the fetal membranes can be seen in the vulva.	Gradually becomes protracted in the pelvic canal.
Partial expulsion	Usually 1-3 hours (Rare: 30 mins-4 hours)	Abdominal contractions that increase in frequency, intensity, regularity, rupture of the foetal membranes and rupture of the foetal skin.	Placenta being pulled out.
Effortful expulsion	Within 12 h postpartum	Expulsion of the placenta.	Placenta being pulled out.

1. Distension stage

Distension stage: swelling of the vulva and the appearance of the foetal membranes in the cervical canal.

- Cervix progressively dilates until approximately the size of a fist.
- The position of the cervix is up and 15 and 18 hours before the foetus is born.
- Characterised by a specific foaming, micturition, animal is restless, no interest in feed, no rumination.
- Repeated series of abdominal contractions of 10-20 minutes.
- During contractions, which are slow, the uterine contents are pushed into the pelvic canal.
- When the cervix is sufficiently dilated, the foetus is pushed through it and the calf will be pushed into the pelvic canal.

2. Partial expulsive stage

- Abdominal contractions start as the calf's head passes over the cervix.
- Contractions (usually more frequent every 2-3 minutes, last longer and increase in intensity).
- Some animals, especially heifers, seem to be in pain.
- Increased abdominal tension, the rupture of the foetal membranes, the "water breaking".

3 Physiology of calving: normal delivery

Presentations

Definitions

- Presentation indicates the relation between the long axis of the foetus and the plane where calving occurs, caudal or transverse.
- Position indicates which surface of the foetus is in contact with the calf's back (dorsal, ventral or lateral).
- Posture indicates the position of the limbs with head, in extension or flexion.

In a normal spontaneous delivery, two presentations are possible:

Normal

This is the most common position of the calf.

- Normal presentation: 1 is born "head first".
- Correct dorsal position: the calf's head is born in one and towards the cervix.
- Posture: the hindlimbs should be extended forward so that they go through the pelvic canal.

Abnormal

- Abnormal presentation: 1 is born "tail first".
- Correct dorsal position:
- Posture: the hindlimbs should be extended forward so that they go through the pelvic canal.
