The paintings are not about people; they are about images. They are about the negative stereotypes that African Americans still buy into. What if the Jews never talked about the holocaust?" (Cohen, 3). Michael Ray Charles explains, due to the colossal amount of hate mail he has received about his paintings. The Forever Free Post lithograph series, like most of Charles work, reveals an unnerving message to African-Americans and Caucasians alike. The resurrection of nineteenth and twentieth century iconic ad icons such as Sambo and Mammy, are more disturbing in the twenty-first century in the climate of tolerance we live in. This doesn't stop Charles from recreating timeless imagery to challenge our perception of race. Nor does it seem to affect the value of this neo-traditionalists work. Charles' paintings and lithographs can be found all over the world at contemporary art museums in New York, London, Milan, Amsterdam and more. The Forever Free Post is series containing five lithographs which are stylized as nineteenth century circus and product advertisement posters. These lithographs are on woven paper, and were created with Charles' signature painting technique of oil wash and copper, distinguishing the look of the past. His signature, a copper penny with the Abraham Lincoln up represents society's lowest value, the penny, which ironically is a different color than all other American coin currency. Charles, Michael Ray. Forever Free Post. 1995. Lithograph. Private Collection, New York. Charles, a Louisiana native, graduated from McNeese State University in 1989 where he earned a BFA in advertising and design. From there he continued his education at the University of Texas where he received an MFA and later became a teacher at that same university. Charles' formal art and marketing focus is reflected in everything he creates; he is obsessed with communications. The influences of marketing and consumption on the masses is why he started digging up and analyzing these nineteenth century images. What was the motive behind blackface and other racially driven marketing? What type of values did these messages create and what stereotypes did they perpetuate? Challenging these questions became Charles' personal dissertation. Many African Americans have criticized his work, claiming Charles is capitalizing on imagery that is shameful to the African-American Heritage. Which Charles replies, "These images are about deconstructing symbols and tracing their history, past and present. They should make everyone uncomfortable." (Heller 8) The two-dimensional lithograph above of an African-American lady liberty is a representation of the stereotypical single mom, welfare recipient. The lady liberty, with the emphasized Sambo smile depicting a watermelon, is fulfilling the American dream which is why her hair is blonde. The picture of the baby carriage is part of this false believe system propagated by many politicians over the decades. This image is alluding to the idea that African-American woman have as much children as they possibly can in order to collect more welfare and receive higher tax returns. The stamp that reads, Free as Always on the right side of the lithograph is another racial construct that African-Americans expect everything for free. This image alludes to the rationalities that African-Americans are lazy and will...

Art Historiography and Iconologies

Between West and East Wojciech Bałus, Magdalena Kunińska, 2024-03-15 This volume explores a basic question in the historiography of art the extent to which iconology was a homogenous research method in its own immutable right By contributing to the rejection of the universalizing narrative these case studies argue that there were many strands of iconology Methods that differed from the canonised approach of Panofsky were proposed by Godefridus Johannes Hoogewerff and Hans Sedlmayr Researchers affiliated with the Warburg Institute in London also chose to distance themselves from Panofsky's work Poland in turn was the breeding ground for yet another distinct variety of iconology In Communist Czechoslovakia there were attempts to develop a Marxist iconology This book written by recognized experts in the field examines these and other major strands of iconology telling the tale of iconology's reception in the countries formerly behind the Iron Curtain Attitudes there ranged from enthusiastic acceptance in Poland to critical reception in the Soviet Union to reinterpretation in Czechoslovakia and the German Democratic Republic and finally to outright rejection in Romania The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies and historiography Chapters 8 and 15 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at www.taylorfrancis.com under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 international license

The Puzzle of Poetry John Marsh, 2020-04-07 The Puzzle of Poetry offers students a readable reliable guide to understanding poetry Instead of carving poems up into their elements The Puzzle of Poetry describes how experienced readers of poems go about understanding them Each line sentence or syntactical unit in a poem is a clue to the puzzle As with crossword puzzles figuring out the answer to one clue can help you figure out the answer to others This book teaches the reader to check what they know in a poem against what else they know to find meaning a systematic but creative approach that can help language to come alive Each chapter contains a lively and personal discussion of one part of the art of reading poetry a short guide to writing about poetry is also included The book introduces students to a variety of poems from Anglo Saxon verse to Hamilton and Jay Z

Historical Perspectives in the Conservation of Works of Art on Paper Margaret Holben Ellis, 2015-02-01 This book is the seventh in the Readings in Conservation series which gathers and publishes texts that have been influential in the development of thinking about the conservation of cultural heritage The present volume provides a selection of more than ninety five texts tracing the development of the conservation of works of art on paper Comprehensive and thorough the book relates how paper conservation has responded to the changing place of prints and drawings in society The readings include a remarkable range of historical selections from texts such as

Renaissance printmaker Ugo da Carpi's sixteenth century petition to the Venetian senate on his invention of chiaroscuro Thomas Churchyard's 1588 essay in verse A Sparke of Frendship and Warne Goodwill and Robert Bell's 1773 piece Observations Relative to the Manufacture of Paper and Printed Books in the Province of Pennsylvania These are complemented by influential writings by such figures as A H Munsell Walter Benjamin and Jacques Derrida along with a generous representation of recent scholarship Each reading is introduced by short remarks explaining the rationale for its selection and the principal matters covered and the book is supplemented with a helpful bibliography This volume is an indispensable tool for museum curators conservators and students and teachers of the conservation of works of art on paper

Changing Conceptions, Changing Practices Angela Glotfelter, Caitlin Martin, Mandy Olejnik, Ann Updike, Elizabeth Wardle, 2022-12-28 Changing Conceptions Changing Practices demonstrates that it is possible for groups of faculty members to change teaching and learning in radical ways across their programs despite the current emphasis on efficiency and accountability Relating the experiences of faculty from disciplines as diverse as art history economics psychology and philosophy this book offers a theory and research based heuristic for helping faculty transform their courses and programs as well as practical examples of the heuristic in action The authors draw on the threshold concepts framework research in writing studies and theories of learning leadership and change to deftly explore why faculty are often stymied in their efforts to design meaningful curricula for deep learning and how carefully scaffolded professional development for faculty teams can help make such change possible This book is a powerful demonstration of how faculty members can be empowered when professional development leaders draw on a range of scholarship that is not typically connected In today's climate courses programs and institutions are often assessed by and rewarded for proxy metrics that have little to do with learning with grave consequences for students The stakes have never been higher particularly for public higher education Faculty members need opportunities to work together using their own expertise and to enact meaningful learning opportunities for students Professional developers have an important role to play in such change efforts WAC scholars and practitioners leaders of professional development and centers for teaching excellence program administrators and curriculum committees from all disciplines and faculty innovators from many fields will find not only hope but also a blueprint for action in *Changing
