Challenging Life: Existential Questions as a Resource for Education Jari Ristiniemi, Geir Skeie, Karin Sporre, 2018

There is an increasing recognition today that young people need to have knowledge about religions and world views in order to live and work in diverse societies. What kind of maps are they provided with through religious values and ethics education? Does education address the challenging existential questions that children and adolescents ask about life and the world? This volume addresses different aspects of how existential questions have been dealt with in educational research. It especially draws attention to the Swedish research tradition of focusing on life questions and the interpretation of life in education but with contemporary international research added. It also addresses issues of ethics education and discusses possible options for the future of existential questions as a resource for education.

The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion and Childhood Anna Strhan, Stephen G. Parker, Susan Ridgely, 2017-01-26. From recent sex abuse scandals in the Roman Catholic Church to arguments about faith schools and religious indoctrination, this volume considers the interconnection between the actual lives of children and the position of children as placeholders for the future. Childhood has often been a particular site of struggle for negotiating the location of religion in public and everyday social life and children's involvement and non-involvement in religion raises strong feelings because they represent the future of religious and secular communities even of society itself. The Bloomsbury Reader in Religion and Childhood provides a rich resource for students and scholars of this interdisciplinary field and addresses wider questions about the distinctiveness of childhood and its religious dimensions in historical and contemporary perspective. Divided into five thematic parts, the volume provides classic contemporary and specially commissioned readings from a range of perspectives including the sociological, anthropological, historical and theological. Case studies range from Augustine's description of childhood in Confessions, the psychology of religion and childhood to religion in children's literature, religious education and Qur'anic schools. Religious traditions covered include Christianity, Judaism, Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism in the UK and Europe, USA, Latin America and Africa. An introduction situates each thematic part and each reading is contextualised by the editors. Guidance on further reading and study questions are provided on the book's webpage.
