Jab Cut Of These For 2015 2016:

Media Analysis and Public Health Lesley Henderson, Shona Hilton, Judith Green, 2020-06-29 This volume showcases new approaches to studying public health in traditional and emerging media suggesting that we need more analyses that focus on the production of media and on power dynamics as well as studies of audience reception of media messages The collection asks a variety of questions about the role of media in analysing public health Contributors ask who is influential in producing the stories we see in the press and on social media Who benefits and who is damaged by media debates on health topics They investigate the role of big business in seeking to shape public opinion and consumption in print and online media how issues such as hand washing come to be framed over time by newspapers how conflicts over immunisations get covered how health promotion messages do their work and the positive role of online media in helping foster drug safety Together they reach the conclusion that since mass media is a crucial element of civic society more in depth understanding of how it works and what impacts it has on public health is essential Given the crucial role of the media in shaping health debates pushing certain issues up the policy agenda defining problems for audiences and presenting potential solutions this book's analysis will be of interest to all those studying how the media shape policy as well as public health researchers with an interest in mass communication This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Public Health

Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa's fourth annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women's interest in science careers The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa

The Meat Crisis Joyce D'Silva, John Webster, 2017-08-23 Meat and dairy production and consumption are in crisis Globally 70 billion farm animals are used for food production every year It is well accepted that livestock production is a major contributor to greenhouse gas emissions The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO predicts a rough doubling of meat and milk consumption in the first half of the 21st century with particularly rapid growth occurring in the developing economies of Asia What will this mean for the health and wellbeing of those animals of the people who consume ever larger quantities of animal products and for the health of the planet itself The new edition of this powerful and challenging book explores the impacts of the global growth in the production and consumption of meat and dairy including cultural and health factors and the implications of the likely intensification of farming for both small scale producers and for animals Several chapters explore the related environmental issues from resource use of water cereals and soya to the impact of livestock production on global warming and issues concerning biodiversity land use and the impacts of different farming systems on the environment A final group of chapters addresses ethical and policy implications for the future of food and livestock production and consumption Since the first edition published in 2010 all chapters have been updated three original chapters re written and six new chapters added with additional coverage of dietary effects of milk and meat antibiotics in animal production and the economic political and ethical dimensions of meat consumption The overall message is clearly that we must eat less meat to help secure a more sustainable and equitable world

The Kenyan Cut Flower Industry and Global Market Dynamics Andreas Gemählich, 2022

Investigates the production trade and consumption of the bouquets sold in European supermarkets and the consequences of this for the globalised economy From a macro perspective it appears that the cut flower industry has changed into a buyer driven value chain with corporate retailers as the new lead firms Yet as this book shows this is insufficient to explain how new trade relations come into being and the consequences of this not only for global economics but for the producers climate change and rural livelihoods As the retailers and wholesalers of the flower industry in the West linked directly to producers in the Global South trade relations changed fundamentally and this critical new book explores the complexities of the power asymmetries and the way in which corporate retailers have shaped the market to promote their own interests as well as the role non economic actors played This book examines in detail the situation at Lake Naivasha Kenya which has played a central part within this new market order Since the 1970s the area has developed into one of the most important production areas for the ready made bouquets that sell so cheaply in European supermarkets For the flower growers themselves however coping with the new conditions of supply and demand the new market order has brought financial precariousness Farms needed to be flexible in the production and marketing of their flowers Yet while they were able to expand their production and achieve more stable employment conditions this has not resulted in significantly higher remuneration The rapidly changing economic situation has also had a profound impact not only on local stakeholders but on the environment where there is intensified competition for resources and new production technologies Published in association with the Collaborative Research Centre FUTURE RURAL AFRICA funded by the German Research Council DFG

Corporate Communication Otto Lerbinger, 2018-10-16 Provides an international and management perspective on the field of corporate communication

Corporate communication plays an important role in higher level management to help build and preserve a company's reputation. This intangible yet valuable asset determines the net worth of a company and affects the success of its operations. Corporate Communication: An International and Management Perspective introduces readers to the broad environment of the modern extended organization and provides an understanding of the globalization process. It describes how economic, political, and cultural features of a country affect company decisions and communication and discusses various communication disciplines and practices that are employed in programs and campaigns. This book addresses the key management issues of sustainability and technology and innovation. It also emphasizes the importance of why corporate communication must be seen as a management function and not restricted to a communication process. Presented in five parts, Corporate Communication offers comprehensive chapters covering The Domain of Corporate Communication, Strategic Application of Communication Practices, International Perspective, Key Management Issues of Sustainability and Technology, and Corporate Communication Contribution to Management. The foundation of Corporate Communication is public relations, but also included is the entire range of communication practices and the contribution to management decision making. Conceptualizes corporate communication as a strategic management function which helps management recognize, adjust to, and construct policy related to global issues. Emphasizes the critical role that corporate communication plays in making corporate decisions and behaviors more socially responsible and sustainable. Demonstrates how corporate communication draws on public affairs, marketing, and social media in its strategic planning. Emphasizes the critical importance of relationships to corporations and their effect on reputation. Provides numerous examples of cases of global problems and how corporations have responded to them. Corporate Communication is intended for upper level undergraduate and graduate students in schools of communication and schools of business and management who want to extend their competence to the global arena and to combine the various communication practices to design strategic programs and campaigns. Course titles include corporate communication, international public relations, corporate public affairs, global marketing, communication, global corporate communication, and social media.

Historic Documents of 2016 Heather Kerrigan, 2017-06-22. Published annually since 1972, the Historic Documents series has made primary source research easy by presenting excerpts from documents on the important events of each year for the United States and the World. Each volume pairs 60 to 70 original background narratives with well over 100 documents to chronicle the major events of the year from official reports and surveys to speeches from leaders and opinion makers to court cases, legislation, testimony, and much more. Historic Documents is renowned for the well-written and informative background history and context it provides for each document. Organized chronologically, each volume covers the same wide range of topics: business, the economy and labor, energy, environment, science, technology, and transportation, government and politics, health and social services, international affairs, national security and terrorism, and rights and justice. Each volume begins with an insightful essay that sets the year's events.

in context and each document or group of documents is preceded by a comprehensive introduction that provides background information on the event Full source citations are provided Readers have easy access to material through a detailed thematic table of contents and each event includes references to related coverage and documents from the last ten editions of the series

American Oligarchy Ron Formisano,2017-09-27 A permanent political class has emerged on a scale unprecedented in our nation s history Its self dealing nepotism and corruption contribute to rising inequality Its reach extends from the governing elite throughout nongovernmental institutions Aside from constituting an oligarchy of prestige and power it enables the creation of an aristocracy of massive inherited wealth that is accumulating immense political power In a muckraking tour de force reminiscent of Lincoln Steffens Upton Sinclair and C Wright Mills American Oligarchy demonstrates the way the corrupt culture of the permanent political class extends down to the state and local level Ron Formisano breaks down the ways this class creates economic inequality and how its own endemic corruption infects our entire society Formisano delves into the work of not just politicians but lobbyists consultants appointed bureaucrats pollsters celebrity journalists behind the scenes billionaires and others Their shameless pursuit of wealth and self aggrandizement often at taxpayer expense rewards channeling the flow of income and wealth to elites That inequality in turn has choked off social mobility and made a joke of meritocracy As Formisano shows these forces respond to the oligarchy s power and compete to bask in the presence of the 01 percent They also exacerbate the dangerous instability of an American democracy divided between extreme wealth and extreme poverty

Engineering and Innovation Meet Archaeology, Architecture and Art Daniele Peila, Giulia Viggiani, Tarcisio Celestino, 2019-04-17 Tunnels and Underground Cities Engineering and Innovation meet Archaeology

Architecture and Art contains the contributions presented at the World Tunnel Congress 2019 Naples Italy 3-9 May 2019. The use of underground space is continuing to grow due to global urbanization, public demand for efficient transportation and energy saving, production and distribution. The growing need for space at ground level along with its continuous value increase and the challenges of energy saving and achieving sustainable development objectives demand greater and better use of the underground space to ensure that it supports sustainable, resilient and more liveable cities. This vision was the source of inspiration for the design of the logos of both the International ITA and Italian SIG Tunnelling Association. By placing key infrastructures underground, the black circle in the logos, it will be possible to preserve and enhance the quality of the space at ground level, the green line. In order to consider and value underground space usage together with human and social needs, engineers, architects and artists will have to learn to collaborate and develop an interdisciplinary design approach that addresses functionality, safety, aesthetics and quality of life and adaptability to future and varied functions. The 700 contributions cover a wide range of topics from more traditional subjects connected to technical challenges of design and construction of underground works with emphasis on innovation in tunneling engineering to less conventional and archetypically Italian themes such as archaeology, architecture and art. The book has the following main themes: Archaeology, Architecture and Art in underground construction, Environment, sustainability in underground construction, Geological and geotechnical knowledge and requirements for project implementation, Ground improvement in underground constructions, Innovation in underground engineering, materials and equipment, Long and deep tunnels, Public communication and awareness, Risk management, contracts and financial aspects, Safety in underground construction, Strategic use of underground space for resilient cities, Urban tunnels, Tunnels and Underground Cities, Engineering and Innovation meet Archaeology, Architecture and Art. This is a valuable reference text for tunneling specialists, owners, engineers, architects and others involved in underground planning, design and building around the world and for academics who are interested in underground constructions and geotechnics.

Food in America Andrew F. Smith, 2017-02-16. This three volume work examines all facets of the modern U.S. food system including the nation's most important food and agriculture laws, the political forces that shape modern food policy and the food production trends that are directly impacting the lives of every American family. Americans are constantly besieged by conflicting messages about food, the environment and health and nutrition. Are foods with genetically modified ingredients safe? Should we choose locally grown food? Is organic food better than conventional food? Are concentrated animal feed operations destroying the environment? Should food corporations target young children with their advertising and promotional campaigns? This comprehensive three volume set addresses all of these questions and many more, probing the problems created by the industrial food system, examining conflicting opinions on these complex food controversies and highlighting the importance of food in our lives and the decisions we make each time we eat. The coverage of each of the many controversial food issues in the set offers perspectives from different sides to encourage readers to examine various viewpoints and make up their own minds The first volume Food and the Environment addresses timely issues such as climate change food waste pesticides and sustainable foods Volume two entitled Food and Health and Nutrition addresses subjects like antibiotics food labeling and the effects of salt and sugar on our health The third volume Food and the Economy tackles topics such as food advertising and marketing food corporations genetically modified foods globalization and megagrocery chains Each volume contains several dozen primary documents that include firsthand accounts written by promoters and advertisers journalists politicians and government officials and supporters and critics of various views related to food and beverages representing speeches advertisements articles books portions of major laws and government documents to name a few These documents provide readers additional resources from which to form informed opinions on food issues
