Chemistry in Your Kitchen Matthew Hartings, 2020-08-28 Whether you know it or not you become a chemist any time you step into a kitchen As you cook you oversee intricate chemical transformations that would test even the most hardened of professional chemists Focussing on how and why we cook different dishes the way we do this book introduces basic chemistry through everyday foods and meal preparations Through its unique meal by meal organisation the book playfully explores the chemistry that turns our food into meals Topics covered range from roasting coffee beans to scrambling eggs and gluten development in breads The book features many experiments that you can try in your own kitchen such as exploring the melting properties of cheese retaining flavour when cooking and pairing wines with foods Through molecular chemistry biology neuroscience physics and agriculture the author discusses various aspects of cooking and food preparation This is a fascinating read for anyone interested in the science behind cooking Storied Dishes Linda Murray Berzok, 2010-11-18 We are what we eat not just physiologically but culturally This collection of cross cultural generational essays and accompanying recipes shows the profound importance of food dishes within American women's lives. For people of every ethnicity, food provides much more than mere fuel for the body; it contains an invisible component that ties families and generations together with the continuity of shared experience. And for the women who are entrusted with the responsibility of keeping that priceless cultural thread intact, family recipes embody tradition, bridge generation gaps, and erase age differences. This book is organized around 50 short essays and recipes presented by women from multicultural backgrounds and dissimilar walks of life. The chapters depict the paths of these individuals in their lives and the details of how they acquired their precious family recipes. The stories document how women universally use inherited family recipes to remember and memorialize key women in their lives and to aid and measure their own growth and development. Included are reminiscences of an Egyptian aunt, a poor mother from Australia, a Katrina-flooded New Orleans family, Turkish relations, Chinese mothers, and Indian grandmothers.

A Year and a Day Leslie Pietrzyk, 2024-05-21. Fifteen-year-old Alice dreams of her first kiss, has sleepovers, auditions for Our Town, and tries to pass high school biology. It's 1975, and at first, her life would seem to be normal and unexceptional. But in the world that Leslie Pietrzyk paints, every moment she chronicles is revealed through the kaleidoscope of loss, stained by the fact that Alice's mother, without warning, note, or apology, deliberately parks her car on the railroad tracks in the path of an oncoming train. In the emotional year that follows, Alice and her older brother find themselves in the care of their great aunt, forced to cope and move forward. Lonely and confused, Alice absorbs herself in her mother, Annette's, familiar rituals, trying to recapture their connection, only to be stunned by the sound of her mother's voice speaking to her, engaging Alice in conversations and offering some insight into the life that she had led beyond her role as Alice's mother.

Food Styling Delores Custer, 2010-05-03. Food Styling is the first serious book on the subject of food styling for specific media: editorial, advertorial, public relations, marketing, advertising, packaging, and television and film production. It focuses on the development of skills and the techniques and equipment required to help chefs improve presentations and simply better market a product.
