Paradise Lost and the Making of English Literary Criticism David A. Harper, 2023-12-20 Paradise Lost and the Making of English Literary Criticism identifies the early reception of Paradise Lost as a site of contest over the place of literature in political and religious controversy Milton's earliest readers and critics Dryden Addison Dennis Hume and Bentley confronted a poem and author at odds with the prevailing culture and the revanchist conservatism of the restored monarchy Grappling with the epic required navigating Milton's reputation as a fanatic who had called in print for Charles I's execution inveighed openly against monarchy on the eve of Charles II's return and held heretical views on the trinity baptism and divorce Harper argues that foundational figures in English literary criticism rose to this challenge by innovating new ways of reading producing creative and subversive rewritings of Paradise Lost articulating new theories of the sublime explaining the poem in the first substantial body of annotations for an English vernacular text and by pioneering early forms of textual criticism and editing

Relationship Morality James Kellenberger, 2005-07-13 This book is an inquiry into the extent to which human relationships are foundational in morality J Kellenberger seeks to discover first how relationships between persons and ultimately the relationship that each person has to each person by virtue of being a person underlie the various traditional components of morality obligation virtue justice rights and moral goods and second how relationship morality is more fully consonant with our moral experience than other forms of human morality Kellenberger traces the implications of relationship morality for an understanding of religious duty to God and for the status of our obligations to animals He also examines
