Our Military Requirements. [An extract from Macmillan's Magazine of April, 1871.] Garnet Joseph WOLSELEY (Viscount Wolseley.), 1871

Macmillan's Magazine, 1859-1907 George J. Worth, 2017-03-02 Macmillan's Magazine has long been recognized as one of the most significant of the many British literary intellectual periodicals that flourished in the second half of the nineteenth century Yet the first volume of the Wellesley Index to Victorian Periodicals 1966 pointed out that There is no study of Macmillan's Magazine and that lack has been only partially remedied in all the decades since In this work George Worth addresses five principal questions Where did Macmillan's come from and why in 1859 Who or what was the guiding spirit behind the Magazine especially in its early formative years What cluster of ideas gave it such coherence as it manifested during that period How did it and its parent firm deal with authors and juggle their periodical work and the books they produced for Macmillan and Co And what finally accounted for the palpable decline in the quality and fiscal health of Macmillan's during the last 25 years of its life and ultimately for its death Worth includes a treasure trove of original material about the Magazine much of it drawn from unpublished manuscripts and other previously untapped primary sources Macmillan's Magazine 1859 1907 contributes to the understanding not only of one significant Victorian periodical but also more generally of the literary and cultural milieu in which it originated flourished declined and expired

From Adam Smith to Maynard Keynes Vincent W. Bladen, 1974-12-15 In this survey of the great exponents of the classical tradition Vincent Bladen examines the thought and works of Adam Smith T R Malthus Henry Thornton David Ricardo J S Mill Karl Marx W S Jevons Alfred Marshall and John Maynard Keynes and relates their views to modern situations This is a personal introduction by one of Canada's senior economists to some of the great books in the English literature of political economy Vincent Bladen wrote it to induce an interest in and an understanding of the economic classics in the belief that contemplation of those works will increase our understanding of current economic writing and current economic problems For the purpose of discussing the development of wealth the major concern of economists Bladen defines four periods within the classical tradition and demonstrates that in each there appeared a characteristic preoccupation with a particular area of economics From Adam Smith to John Stuart Mill the principal concern was productivity and growth the neoclassical economists represented by Jevons and Marshall emphasized the problems of allocation of given productive resources depressions in the twenties and thirties and the impact of Keynesian theory led to a preoccupation with employment and after World War II attention shifted to growth Bladen is critical of previous histories of economic thought by isolating the treatment of one element in a complex and integrated system of thought they frequently misrepresent each author's treatment of the particular element In this work he attempts to show each aspect of the work of the economists he has selected in the context of an integrated whole Handbook on the History of Economic Analysis Volume I Gilbert Faccarello, Heinz D.
