

Genetics Practice Problems: Pedigree Tables

Remember the following when working pedigree tables:

- 1) Circles are females and squares are males.
- 2) A shaded circle or square indicates that a person has the trait.

The pedigree seen below is the inheritance of a trait. Shaded individuals are affected. First, determine the probable genotype of person 1 = 11. Then answer the questions below the table.

What do you know about the genotype of the mother of 11?

These parents (11 and 12) had an affected son (12). His dad has the recessive but unshaded allele from his mother. Since the mother is not shaded she must be a carrier.

Number 11 is unshaded just like her father. Where could she get her allele for color blindness?

She inherited her allele for color blindness from her mother. Must have been a carrier. If unshaded, from her father.

Number number 11 and 12 were unshaded. How did they have a color blind son (12)?

Both mother and father are carriers for color blindness.

What must be the genotype of the parents of a color blind daughter? Explain.

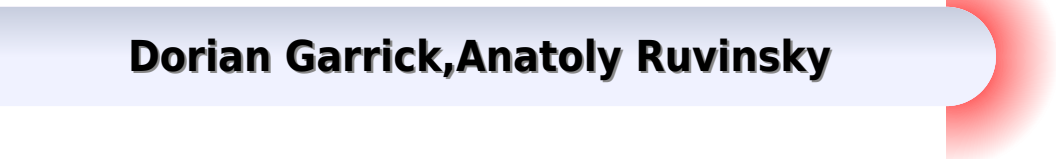

To have a color blind daughter, she would have to inherit the affected allele from each parent. Her father must be X^bY and mother would have to be X^bX^b .

If number 11 has a normal son, what is the probability that their son will be color blind?

$X^BX^b \times X^BY \rightarrow$ all of their sons will have color blind.
