Studies of functional text quality ,2022-05-09 Text and Context in Functional Linguistics Mohsen Ghadessy, 1999-06-15 The shift towards a sociolinguistic approach to the analysis of language in the last few decades has necessitated new definitions for a number of concepts that linguists have taken for granted for a long time This volume attempts to demystify the important notions of text and context by providing clear definitions and examples within the assumptions of Systemic Functional SF linguistics After a discussion of the role and significance of context by three eminent SF linguists in section one the influence of context on text is dealt with in section two From Context to Language Section three From Language to Context considers textual features and their relationship to contextual factors All the contributors base their analyses on data collected from a variety of spoken and written registers of contemporary English Writing: Texts, Processes and Practices Christopher N. Candlin, Ken Hyland, 2014-06-11 Writing Texts Processes and Practices offers an innovative and multidisciplinary approach to writing in a variety of academic and professional settings The book is composed of a series of original research based accounts by leading authorities from a range of disciplines The papers are linked through a unifying perspective which emphasises the role of cultural and institutional practices in the construction and interpretation of written texts This important new book integrates different approaches to text analysis different perspectives on writing processes and the different methodologies used to research written texts Throughout an explicit link is made between research and practice illustrated with reference to a number of case studies drawn from professional and classroom contexts The book will be of considerable interest to those concerned with professional or academic writing and will be of particular value to students and lecturers in applied linguistics communication studies discourse analysis and professional communications training The contributors to this volume are Robert J Barrett Vijay K Bhatia Christopher N Candlin Yu Ying Chang Sandra Gollin Ken Hyland Roz Ivanic Mary R Lea Ian G Malcolm John Milton Greg Myers Guenter A Plum Brian Street John M Swales Sue Weldon Patricia Wright Text Relevance and Learning from Text Gregory Schraw, Matthew T. McCrudden, Joseph P. Magliano, 2011-08-01 Why do people from similar backgrounds who read the same text construct different meanings Is there a question behind every reading goal such that reading is an interactive process of asking and answering of questions Do people who believe that knowledge is dynamic construct meaning differently than those who believe that knowledge is certain This volume addresses questions such as these and presents cutting edge research and theory that explores how readers determine text relevance i e the different values they assign to information as they read how relevance affects understanding and the implications of these studies for theories of text comprehension This volume documents in a compelling manner the ongoing international effort to understand how text relevance affects reading and comprehension Contributing authors represent major academic institutions on three continents and nine countries demonstrating the multinational interest in text relevance Why is there so much interest in text relevance Learners are inundated with unprecedented amounts of information and increased research regarding how readers process non traditional texts e g documents on the web and multiple documents for example underscores the importance of understanding how readers determine the relevance of text information for personal academic or professional goals which can enable educators to design learning situations that help learners get the most out of reading

Functional Literacy and the Schools Donald L. Fisher,1978

Translating as a Purposeful Activity Christiane Nord,2014-04-08 German language approaches to translation have been revolutionized by the theory of action Handlungstheorie and the related theory of translation s goal or purpose Skopstheorie Both these approaches are functionalist they seek to liberate translators from servitude to the source text seeing translation as a new communicative act that must be purposeful with respect to the translator s client and readership As one of the leading figures in this field Christiane Nord gives the first full survey of functionalist approaches in English She explains the complexities of the theories and their terms using simple language with numerous examples The book includes an overview of how the theories developed illustrations of the main ideas and specific applications to translator training literary translation interpreting and ethics The survey concludes with a concise review of the criticisms that have been made of the theories together with perspectives for the future development of functionalist approaches
