Sixth Grade – Informational/Expository Essay

© 2003 – Edmentum

Teacher Says: The Common Core expects middle school students to be proficient using an informational writing structure. This is sometimes called expository writing. This kind of writing examines a topic and conveys ideas, concepts, and information.

Expository essays can inform, clarify, describe, explain, define, and/or instruct. Unlike persuasive and argumentative essays, expository essays try to remain objective. It is the most common form of writing done in high school, college, and life.

Today's prompt:

Some schools have a program that pairs older students with younger students. The older students act as mentors. They are available to assist the younger students academically and socially. How would this program help the older and the younger students? Write an essay for your classmates, that explains the benefits of a mentoring program on the students involved.

The words in the prompt that signal the use of an informational writing structure are how and explain. Other words that signal an informational writing structure should be used are: what, describe, why, evaluate, inform, clarify, define, instruct, and analyze.

Students Do: Students brainstorm ideas associated with how the mentor program helps older and younger students. (Begin with any of a variety of brainstorming techniques.)

Students generate ideas on their own and add to class list

Paired students generate ideas and add to class list

Groups make posters of their ideas / poster walk.

Students write idea on large index card- pass to a neighbor who adds to it or responds with a question

Round Robins – generate ideas – no idea “you’re out” – last one is the “winner”
