Unilateral Sanctions in International Law Surya P Subedi, 2021-05-06 This is the first book that explores whether there are any rules in international law applicable to unilateral sanctions and if so what they are The book examines both the lawfulness of unilateral sanctions and the limitations within which they should operate In doing so it includes an analysis of State practice the provisions of various international legal instruments dealing with such sanctions and their impact on other areas of international law such as freedom of navigation aviation and transit and the principles of international trade investment regional economic integration and the protection of human rights and the environment This study finds that unilateral sanctions by a state or a group of states against another state as opposed to smart or targeted sanctions of limited scope would be unlawful unless they meet the procedural and substantive requirements stipulated in international law Importantly the book identifies and consolidates these requirements scattered in different areas of international law including the additional rules of customary international law that have emerged out of the recent practice of States and that increase the limitations on the use of unilateral sanctions Gearing Up for Competitiveness Asian Development Bank, 2016-08-01 This book focuses on local government s role in increasing city competitiveness through planning governance and finance particularly in small to medium sized cities in South Asia Existing studies on city competitiveness tend to focus on megacities and yet smaller cities house an increasingly large portion of South Asia s population This study seeks to initiate a more systematic thinking on the role of planning governance and finance to overcome the challenges of

The New Spirit of Islamism Ezgi Basaran,2024-05-02 This book explains the aspirations and concerns of Islamist actors in the aftermath of the Arab Uprisings by looking at two sets of relationships between Turkey s ruling AKP and the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood and the AKP and Tunisia s Ennahda It presents a unique analysis of the interplay between the AKP Ennahda and the Muslim Brotherhood characterizing the actors the structure and the main features of the relationship and thereby illuminating a political confluence among these three critical Islamist entities in the aftermath of the Arab Uprisings Existing scholarship has assumed that this relationship revolves primarily around an ideological Islamist agenda however this research demonstrates a more complex and nuanced situation Ezgi Basaran puts forward that the interplay was not based on an aspiration of building an ideological Islamist bloc in the MENA region but rather revolved around the concept of political success and had a strong neoliberal ethos Basaran draws on data collected from over 60 interviews with high level members of the AKP Ennahda and Muslim Brotherhood to demonstrate how in the hope of achieving success and legitimization Ennahda and the Muslim Brotherhood have relied on the managerial prescriptions provided by the AKP The contents of this success formula were derived from the AKP s experience as an Islamist party in power since 2002 and includes tactics on crisis evasion legitimization winning elections and maintaining power
