Leslie,2022-09-15 This book will assist therapists in easily implementing the concepts of strategic and solution oriented applications into one s therapeutic work with depressed clients

The focus of these brief therapy approaches is on the clients resources and potential rather than on their deficits and pathology. These ideas have their roots in the work of Milton H Erickson the Mental Research Institute in Palo Alto California and Bill O Hanlon's Solution Oriented Therapy. The methods and applications recognise the significance of how clients perceive their problems, the importance on assisting clients to be validated and understood in the realm of their experiences and the creation of change in their views and actions concerning their individual situations. Perceptions and Possibilities is designed to assist therapists in finding new ways of moving their therapy sessions away from an entrenched focus on client pathology. Instead therapists are encouraged towards brief and effective interactions with a focus on future oriented possibilities. Paul Leslie presents established and cutting edge research, colourful case studies and stories told in everyday language to engage, educate and aid mental health professionals. The aim is to enable them to understand how to easily adapt and apply creative and resourceful therapy interventions to help clients who are suffering from depression. This book is highly recommended for psychologists, counsellors and psychotherapists, particularly those who are interested in exploring brief therapies, postmodern, Ericksonian approaches and solution focused systemic and strategic therapies.

Caregiver Stress and Staff Support in Illness, Dying and Bereavement Irene Renzenbrink, 2011-03-24. The need for renewal and support for those who care for seriously ill, dying and bereaved people has been acknowledged from the very beginning of the hospice and palliative care movement. While often referring to the rewards and satisfactions of the work, Dame Cicely Saunders was the first to acknowledge that helping encounters with dying patients and distressed relatives could be a source of anguish and grief for dedicated and compassionate carers. Caregiver Stress and Staff Support in Illness, Dying and Bereavement discusses the challenge of finding a balance between the support needs of patients, families and staff and the resources available. With contributions from practitioners and researchers from around the world, this book recognizes that palliative care today is being provided in many different settings and that there may be wide variations in the way individuals and organizations identify and manage the stressors that arise through the work. This unique collection of international perspectives on the complexities and management of caregiver stress and staff support builds on the firm foundation Mary Vachon built over thirty years ago in her studies, yet broadens the scope to include significant social, political and cultural variations on the theme.
