Guide To Learning Independently:

A Guide to Learning Independently Lorraine Marshall, Frances Rowland, 2013-09-16 A Guide to Learning Independently describes techniques to help students succeed in formal education. It helps with learning tasks such as writing assignments, reading textbooks, making notes, and concentrating when studying, as well as offering a range of suggestions as to how students can meet the requirements of their teachers and courses. It is also designed to help students discover their own learning goals and how they learn best. The text rests on the premise that it is possible for a person to change the way they approach their learning. It is directed to the individual student because it is the individual who must write the essays and reports, pass the exams, and organise themselves in order to be successful in the tertiary education system. As well as offering realistic and well-tested study strategies, this Guide focuses on your reasons for study as you balance the demands of study with the rest of your life. It will help you clarify your particular strengths as a learner and develop a repertoire of independent lifelong learning skills. The comprehensive range of study techniques Learning how to learn The Open University, 1984-01-01 This 6-hour free course explored how to make the process of learning more effective by applying various ideas and activities to your own study The SENCO Survival Guide Sylvia Edwards, 2010-12-14 Are you confused about Special Education Needs (SEN) and Learning Difficulties and Disabilities (LDD)? This book is intended for SENCOs and other staff working from the Foundation stage to Key Stage 4 with management responsibility for SEN/LDD systems in schools. The book will explore recent initiatives and terminology in the context of the Inclusion Development Programme and Narrowing the Gap, examine the implications for school policy and practice, link together related SEN/LDD development, help schools to develop co-ordinated systems that enable all learners with SEN/LDD to meet their potential and aspirations.
