The Green Solution to Breast Cancer Kristen Abatsis McHenry Ph.D.,2015-09-22 This unique research based investigation of the U S breast cancer movement compares the pink and green efforts within the movement and documents their use of similar citizen science alliances despite the contention over the use of consumer based activism and pink products Breast cancer activism is one of the most flourishing research and health advocacy movements in U S history Yet the incidence of breast cancer is continuing to increase This critical and revealing text investigates breast cancer activism in its two forms the pink movement that focuses on developing awareness of coping with and managing breast cancer and the green movement that strives to determine the possible environmental causes of breast cancer such as pesticides chemicals and water and air pollution and thereby hopes to prevent breast cancer What caused this new green movement to develop Will it replace or merge with the pink movement Does either approach offer more promise for a solution And how do the two movements differ in their positions or methodology towards a similar goal With information culled from interviews with more than 50 industry stakeholders The Green Solution to Breast Cancer A Promise for Prevention argues that key attributes such as strategy mission and branding have led to a greater convergence between the pink and green wings of the movement and presents information that enables readers to consider if either approach might be the shorter route to beating breast cancer

Water Systems towards New Future Challenges Helena M. Ramos, 2021-03-09 This book comprises components associated with smart water which aims at the exploitation and building of more sustainable and technological water networks towards the water energy nexus and system efficiency The implementation of modeling frameworks for measuring the performance based on a set of relevant indicators and data applications and model interfaces provides better support for decisions towards greater sustainability and more flexible and safer solutions The hydraulic management and structural models represent the most effective and viable way to predict the behavior of the water networks under a wide range of conditions of demand and system failures The knowledge of reliable parameters is crucial to develop approach models and therefore positive decisions in real time to be implemented in smart water systems On the other hand the models of operation in real time optimization allow us to extend decisions to smart water systems in order to improve the efficiency of the water network and ensure more reliable and flexible operations maximizing cost environmental and social savings associated with losses or failures The data obtained in real time instantly update the network model towards digital water models showing the characteristic parameters of pumps valves pressures and flows as well as hours of operation towards the lowest operating costs in order to meet the requirement
