Extra Edward Epstein, 2014-11-16 This book by Edward Jay Epstein the author of News From Nowhere explores the myths fables and other inventions of American Journalism The project began forty five years ago when William Shawn the legendary editor of the New Yorker asked him to investigate media reports that the US government had executed 28 members of the Black Panther party After Epstein had demonstrated that the story was a myth of the press and the list of the 28 deaths was an invention of a lawyer for the Black Panther party the Washington Post and Los Angeles Times issued editorial apologies for their stories perpetuating the myth In EXTRA read about the inventions of journalism including Deep Throat Bin Laden's fortress at Tora Bora and the heroin epidemic of the 1960s In EXTRA read about the tabloids subsumed the mainstream press In EXTRA read about how television became news from nowhere Regret the Error Craig Silverman, 2010-09-10 We regret the error it's a phrase that appears in newspapers almost daily the standard notice that something went terribly wrong in the reporting editing or printing of an article From Craig Silverman the proprietor of www.RegretTheError.com one of the Internet's most popular media related websites comes a collection of funny shocking and sometimes disturbing journalistic slip ups and corrections On display are all types of media inaccuracy from fuzzy math to obiticide printing the obituary of a person very much alive and well to complete and utter ethical lapses While some of the errors can be laugh out loud funny the book contains a sobering journey through the history of media mistakes including the outrageous hoaxes that dominated newspapers during the circulation wars of the 19th century and a serious muckraking investigation of contemporary journalism's lack of accountability to the public It shines a spotlight on the media's carelessness and the sometimes tragic and calamitous consequences of weak or non-existent fact checking The New Science and Invention in Pictures, 1923 Ethics and the Media Stephen J. A. Ward, 2020-11-05 This edition provides a new and comprehensive set of ethical principles and methods of reasoning for digital global media The American Language H. L. The Invention of Telepathy, 1870-1901 Roger Luckhurst, 2002. The Invention of Telepathy explores one of the enduring concepts to emerge from the late nineteenth century. Telepathy was coined by Frederic Myers in 1882. He defined it as the communication of any kind from one mind to another independently of the recognised channels of sense. By 1901 it had become a disputed phenomenon amongst physical scientists, yet was the royal road to the unconscious mind. Telepathy was discussed by eminent men and women of the day, including Sigmund Freud, Thomas Huxley, Henry and William James, Mary Kingsley, Andrew Lang, Vernon Lee, W. T. Stead, and Oscar Wilde. Did telepathy signal evolutionary advance or possible decline? Could it be a means of binding the Empire closer together, or was it used by natives to subvert imperial communications? Were women more sensitive than men, and if so, why? Roger Luckhurst investigates these questions in an exciting and accessible study that mixes history of science with cultural history and literary analysis.
