From Justinian To Luther:

From Justinian to Luther Leighton Pullan, 2014-11-17 This comprehensive history traces the course of Christianity from the Byzantine empire until the Reformation From the preface THE purpose of these lectures is to exhibit some pictures of the growth of Christendom both ecclesiastical and civil during the Middle Ages They are neither strictly theological nor apologetic but they necessarily touch upon many questions of theology and they are written with the belief that the communion of saints is a great reality To some readers their omissions may appear to be culpable and their repetitions to be irksome But I hope that others will consider that the method which I have adopted makes each lecture more intelligible than it might otherwise have proved to be From Justinian to Luther Leighton Pullan, 1930 From Justinian to Luther

Martin Luther's Theology of Two Kingdoms in Buddhist and Christian Communities Pa Yaw, 2024-05-29 Socially engaged religion teaches that people of faith have a responsibility to address and reduce suffering in all its forms both physical and spiritual including suffering resulting from social injustice exploitation oppression false faith and so forth True religion engages with society to alleviate suffering and bring transformation In other words religious violence is an obscenity a deviation from the true character of religion Martin Luther s Theology of Two Kingdoms in Buddhist and Christian Communities examines the principle of separation between religion and politics in the context of both Buddhist and Christian communities In predominantly Buddhist contexts such as Myanmar where a reciprocal relationship between religion and politics is expected separation is not effective Attempts by Christians to separate religion and politics cause the church to run away from tyranny and follow the state with blind obedience Martin Luther s model of two distinct but interconnected systems for religion and politics creates space for each institution to give constructive advice and criticism to the other for the health of all human beings
