Sound Mapping the New Testament Margaret Ellen Lee, Brandon Bernard Scott, 2024-01-01 In the ancient world writings were read aloud heard and remembered In contrast modern exegesis assumes a silent text For Margaret Lee and Brandon Scott the disjuncture between ancient and modern approaches to literature obscures the beauty and meaning in writings such as the New Testament As the structure of an ancient Greek composition derives first from its sounds and not from the meaning of its words sound analysis analysis of the signifier and its audible dimension are crucial to interpretation Sound Mapping the New Testament explores writing technology in the Greco Roman world and uses ancient Greek literary criticism for descriptions of grammar as a science of sound and literary composition as a woven fabric of speech Based on these perspectives and a close analysis of writings from the four Gospels Paul and Q Lee and Scott advance a theory of sound analysis that enables modern readers to hear the New Testament afresh This second edition includes a new introduction which reviews a decade of sound mapping scholarship

Introduction to Computer Music Nick Collins, 2010-02-01 An up to date core undergraduate text Introduction to Computer Music deals with both the practical use of technology in music and the key principles underpinning the discipline It targets both musicians exploring computers and technologists engaging with music and does so in the confidence that both groups can learn tremendously from the cross disciplinary encounter It is designed to approach computer music as its own subject and strongly bridge the arts to computing divide benefiting and reconciling both musicians and computer scientists You will need little or no prior experience of computer programming itself and may not have an extensive background in mathematics or music but this highly engaging textbook will help you master many disciplines at once with a focus on both fascinating theories and exciting practical applications The Magazine of Wall Street and Business Analyst ,1925
