An Introduction to Mathematical Finance with Applications Arlie O. Petters, Xiaoying Dong, 2016-06-17 This textbook aims to fill the gap between those that offer a theoretical treatment without many applications and those that present and apply formulas without appropriately deriving them The balance achieved will give readers a fundamental understanding of key financial ideas and tools that form the basis for building realistic models including those that may become proprietary Numerous carefully chosen examples and exercises reinforce the student s conceptual understanding and facility with applications The exercises are divided into conceptual application based and theoretical problems which probe the material deeper The book is aimed toward advanced undergraduates and first year graduate students who are new to finance or want a more rigorous treatment of the mathematical models used within While no background in finance is assumed prerequisite math courses include multivariable calculus probability and linear algebra The authors introduce additional mathematical tools as needed The entire textbook is appropriate for a single year long course on introductory mathematical finance The self contained design of the text allows for instructor flexibility in topics courses and those focusing on financial derivatives Moreover the text is useful for mathematicians physicists and engineers who want to learn finance via an approach that builds their financial intuition and is explicit about model building as well as business school students who want a treatment of finance that is deeper but not overly theoretical Smart Computing Applications in Crowdfunding Bo Xing,Tshilidzi Marwala,2018-12-07

The book focuses on smart computing for crowdfunding usage looking at the crowdfunding landscape e g reward donation equity P2P based and the crowdfunding ecosystem e g regulator asker backer investor and operator The increased complexity of fund raising scenario driven by the broad economic environment as well as the need for using alternative funding sources has sparked research in smart computing techniques Covering a wide range of detailed topics the authors of this book offer an outstanding overview of the current state of the art providing deep insights into smart computing methods tools and their applications in crowdfunding exploring the importance of smart analysis prediction and decision making within the fintech industry This book is intended to be an authoritative and valuable resource for professional practitioners and researchers alike as well as finance engineering and computer science students who are interested in crowdfunding and other emerging fintech topics

The Credit Scoring Toolkit Raymond Anderson,2007-08-30 The Credit Scoring Toolkit provides an all encompassing view of the use of statistical models to assess retail credit risk and provide automated decisions In eight modules the book provides frameworks for both theory and practice It first explores the economic justification and history of Credit Scoring risk linkages and decision science statistical and mathematical tools the assessment of business enterprises and regulatory issues ranging from data privacy to Basel II It then provides a practical how to guide for scorecard development including data collection scorecard implementation and use within the credit risk management cycle Including numerous real life examples and an extensive glossary and bibliography the text assumes little prior knowledge making it an indispensable desktop reference for graduate students in statistics business economics and finance MBA students credit risk and financial practitioners
