That's what happens to Erin Swift when her secret blog lands on the school Web site. As if navigating the treacherous waters of seventh grade weren't enough. Writing with warm knowing humor, first-time novelist Denise Vega perfectly captures life from a seventh-grade girl's point of view.

A Not So Typical Eighth Graders story Tylia L. Flores, 2022-12-23

A Not So Typical Eighth Graders Story follows 13-year-old Austin Keller, a writer with Cerebral Palsy who uses a wheelchair to get from place to place due to the obstacles he faces due to his condition. In addition to having Cerebral Palsy, his parents divorced because of his father's PTSD and alcoholism, which led to him being labeled an outcast at Plantation Middle School. A MacBook Pro gives him a sense of belonging for his 13th birthday, and he is encouraged to join the school creative writing club, changing his life forever. In this inspiring story, Austin Keller, an eighth grader with cerebral palsy, shares his story that differs greatly from that of most eighth graders. Austin uses a wheelchair to get around since he has cerebral palsy. Writing became his passion due to his disability. Austin has been able to use writing as an outlet for his feelings and as a way to express himself. Through writing, he has been able to share his experiences with others, something he wouldn't have been able to do without his disability. Writing has given Austin the opportunity to connect with and inspire people all over the world. He has been able to develop his own unique voice and style and share his story with people who may not have been in a position to understand it in any other way. Through writing, he was able to express himself and gain self-confidence despite living with a disability. He used writing to express his thoughts and feelings about his experiences and to inspire others. In order to cope with living in a world where he is not understood, he entered the Youth Writers Competition. By entering the competition, he was able to share his story with others and have it validated, which helped boost his self-esteem. Participating in the competition also allowed him to connect with other people who have similar experiences and to find support and community.
