Human Development Report Lebanon:

Lebanon National Human Development Report United Nations Development Programme, 2009 The Arab Human Development Report, 2009 National Human Development Report, Lebanon United Nations Development Programme, 1998 Citizen Hariri Hannes Baumann, 2017-06-01 Rafiq Hariri was Lebanon's Silvio Berlusconi a self-made billionaire who became prime minister and shaped postwar reconstruction His assassination in February 2005 almost tipped the country into civil strife Yet Hariri was neither a militia leader nor from a traditional political family How did this outsider rise to wield such immense political and economic power Citizen Hariri shows how the billionaire converted his wealth and close ties to the Saudi monarchy into political power Hariri is used as a prism to examine how changes in global neoliberalism reshaped Lebanese politics He initiated urban megaprojects and inflated the banking sector And having grown rich as a contractor in the Gulf he turned Lebanon into an outlet for Gulf capital The concentration of wealth and the restructuring of the postwar Lebanese state were comparable to the effects of neoliberalism elsewhere But at the same time Hariri was a deeply Lebanese figure He had to fend against militia leaders and a hostile Syrian regime The billionaire outsider eventually came to behave like a traditional Lebanese political patron Hannes Baumann assesses not only the personal legacy of the man dubbed Mr Lebanon but charts the wider social and economic transformations his rise represented

Human Rights and Human Development in the Arab and Islamic World Raphael Israeli, 2022-08-29 For many years Islam has behaved in total authoritarian domination over masses of populations with a total disregard of basic human rights based on the Sharia holy law of Empire and rule over its own Muslim subjects Even more so over a multitude of Christian Jewish and other minorities Islam has ignored Western developments since the American and French Revolutions which little by little developed the liberal predominance of human rights The prevailing rationale in Islam was and has remained that Allah's Law as expressed in His Holy edicts forever takes priority over any law that humans can produce While similar beliefs were modified in other faiths and creeds which resulted in Western philosophical thought due to the established separation of Church and state Islam has never known such a separation and has perpetuated the ancient traditional views rationalizing that while human-made laws are ephemeral and transient Allah's are immutable and eternal Hence the severe laws on apostasy in Islam which forbid Muslims the right to deny their faith under threat of death Even the religions of Christianity and Judaism are under restriction in Islamdom If their followers wish to convert they are permitted to do so only to Islam which is why the record of human rights in Islam is so poor The Arab Human Development Report 2002, 2002 The report looks at the progress Arab countries have made in human development over the past three decades To facilitate further development the report emphasises the need to overcome shortcomings in the Arab institutional structure These relate to freedom of thought religion education free elections and justice the empowerment of women and knowledge

A Political Economy of Lebanon, 1948-2002 Toufic Gaspard, 2003-12-01 This book is about the laissez faire strategy for economic development a strategy inspired by neoclassical mainstream economics advocated by the Washington Consensus and implemented by the Bretton Woods institutions Mainstream economics has taken legitimacy from the historical failure of command economies But this view has not been balanced by an examination of the performance of laissez faire economies the closest to the pure market model Lebanon provides a unique test case in this regard The book assesses Lebanon s development during 1948 2002 including its industrial and financial performance The dynamics of the laissez faire system is separately studied from a Post Keynesian perspective highlighting institutional behavior It is found that laissez faire is not a sufficient condition for economic development and can even be counterproductive The Lessons of Lebanon Samir Makdisi, 2004-02-26 Since 1945 over 200 intrastate conflicts have taken place in countries that achieved independence from colonial rule after the second world war The case of Lebanon offers a striking illustration of these interlocking influences on projects of national economic development The persistently sectarian nature of the country s political institutions the relatively poor quality of governance and the major civil war that engulfed the country from 1975 to 1990 together define not only the context in which the achievements and failures of Lebanese development must be assessed but also the continuing challenges that it must face in the era of globalization This book offers an in depth analysis of Lebanese economic development during the second half of the twentieth century with special emphasis on the civil war and its aftermath Makdisi offers a definitive assessment of the principal phases of national development since Lebanese independence in the 1940s and a study of those conditions requisite for sustainable development for Lebanon as for many other developing countries

Civil Society and Political Reform in Lebanon and Libya Carmen Geha, 2016-02-12 Lebanon and Libya have undergone critical political events in recent years However demands for reform from civic institutions during these transitions have not led to concrete political decisions Civil Society and Political Reform in Lebanon and Libya reveals the deeply entrenched historical patterns and elements of continuity that have led to path dependent outcomes in the political transitions of both countries Motivated by personal experiences as an activist in Lebanon the author draws together a wide range of data from participant observations nation wide surveys interviews and focus groups in a careful analysis of these two civil society led reform campaigns The study demonstrates how the combination of weak states and power sharing agreements marginalizes civic organisations and poses institutional constraints on the likelihood of reform Written by an active participant in the political events discussed this book offers new insight into two countries which present comparable and informative case studies As such it is a valuable resource for students scholars and policymakers interested in civil society politics and reform in the Middle East and North Africa Country gender assessment of the agriculture and rural sector - Lebanon Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations , 2021-04-19 FAO Policy on Gender Equality identifies gender mainstreaming and women targeted actions as a twofold strategy for the achievement of gender equality in the agricultural and rural sector This book reflects on the FAO gender assessment of the agricultural and rural sector of Lebanon explaining by that the gender mainstreaming across different levels including the political and institutional ones in addition to providing a detailed and statistical gender analysis for the engagement of women in the agricultural sector along with its various restrictions and implications on the rural community

Women's Lives around the World Susan M. Shaw, Nancy Staton Barbour, Patti Duncan Ph.D., Kryn Freehling-Burton Ph.D., Jane Nichols, 2018-01-04 Providing an in depth look at the lives of women and girls in approximately 150 countries this multivolume reference set offers readers transnational and postcolonial analysis of the many issues that are critical to the success of women and girls For millennia women around the world have shouldered the responsibility of caring for their families But in recent decades women have emerged as a major part of the global workforce balancing careers and family life How did this change happen And how are societies in developing countries responding and adapting to women s newer roles in society This four volume encyclopedia examines the lives of women around the world with coverage that includes the education of girls and teens the key roles women play in their families careers religions and cultures how issues for women intersect with colonialism transnationalism feminism and established norms of power and control Organized geographically each volume presents detailed entries about the lives of women in particular countries Additionally each volume offers sidebars that spotlight topics related to women and girls in specific regions or focus on individual women s lives and contributions Primary source documents include sections of countries constitutions that are relevant to women and girls United Nations resolutions and national resolutions regarding women and girls and religious statements and proclamations about women and girls The organization of the set enables readers to take an in depth look at individual countries as well as to make comparisons across countries

(Re)constructing Armenia in Lebanon and Syria Nicola Migliorino, 2008-06-01 For almost nine decades since their mass resettlement to the Levant in the wake of the Genocide and First World War the Armenian communities of Lebanon and Syria appear to have successfully maintained a distinct identity as an ethno culturally diverse group in spite of representing a small non Arab and Christian minority within a very different mostly Arab and Muslim environment The author shows that while in Lebanon the state has facilitated the development of an extensive and effective system of Armenian ethno cultural preservation in Syria the emergence of centralizing authoritarian regimes in the 1950s and 1960s has severely damaged the autonomy and cultural diversity of the Armenian community Since 1970 the coming to power of the Asad family has contributed to a partial recovery of Armenian ethno cultural diversity as the community seems to have developed some form of tacit arrangement with the regime In Lebanon on the other hand the Armenian community suffered the consequences of the recurrent breakdown of the consociational arrangement that regulates public life In both cases the survival of Armenian cultural distinctiveness seems to be connected rather incidentally with the continuing search for legitimacy of the state

The Government and Politics of Lebanon Imad Salamey, 2013-10-15 Aiming to contribute to the reader s greater understanding of Lebanese government and politics this book provides a comprehensive examination of the origin development and institutionalization of sectarian consociationalism in Lebanon A recurrent proposition advanced in this book is that Lebanese sectarian consociationalism has been both a cure and a curse in the formulation of political settlements and institution building On the one hand and in contrast to many surrounding Arab regimes consociational arrangements have provided the country with a relative democratic political life A limited government with a strong confessional division of power and a built in checks and balance mechanism prevented the emergence of dictatorship or monarchy On the other hand a chronic weak state has complicated efforts for nation building in favour of sectarian fragmentation external interventions and strong polarization that periodically brought the country to the verge of total collapse and civil war While examining Lebanese sectarian politics of conflict and concession during different historic junctures many revelations are made that underlie the role of domestic and international forces shaping the country's future Presenting an implicit description of the power and functions of the various branches of government within the context of sectarian consociationalism this book is an important introductory text for students of Lebanese Politics and Middle Eastern politics more broadly

Internally Displaced People Janie Hampton, 2014-10-14 The number of internally displaced people far outnumbers estimated refugees who have fled their countries The majority of displaced populations survive with very little security or legal protection Responding to the needs of internally displaced people is one of the greatest humanitarian challenges of our time Revised and updated from the first edition this volume includes information on internal displacement in 47 different countries across the globe that is to say all countries experiencing conflict induced displacement at the time of publication There is discussion of the causes of displacement patterns of flight protection concerns and international response
