Middle East Sources Ian Richard Netton, 2013-11-19 Middle East Sources provides an invaluable resource for the busy librarian student or scholar with Middle Eastern interests It aims to guide readers to the major collections of books and other materials on the subject in the UK and Ireland as well as to some lesser known but nonetheless interesting collections in smaller libraries Entries are fully up to date and include information on addresses including telephone fax and e mail details brief descriptions of collections held along with references to relevant catalogue material and other directories The guide also highlights the extent of collections and gives help in accessing The MELCOM Area Specialisation Scheme MASS designation of the collections is also included where relevant The Qur'an and the West Kenneth Cragg, 2016-02-01 Kenneth Cragg 1913-2012 was one of the West's most gifted interpreters of Islam In this deeply insightful classic work of Quranic studies he argues that the West must put aside a spiritual imperialism that draws on Western precepts alien to Muslims and learn to come within Islam Only then can a conversation begin that can relieve the misunderstandings and suspicion that has grown between Islam and the West in the years since 9/11 Cragg's close and thoughtful readings are as timely and relevant now as they were when The Qur'an and the West was originally published With skill and nuance he illuminates the difficulty that ensues through the Scripture's contradictory teachings on Islam's manifestation in the world teachings that have brought about a crisis for modern Muslims living in both the West and the westernizing worlds where a Muslim's obligation to Islamicize is met with anxiety and distrust The Qur'an and the West offers a means of study that reaches for a deeper knowledge of the Qur'an engendering a new understanding of its holy teachings and opening a means for a fruitful discourse Studies in Islamic Civilization Ahmed Essa, Othman Ali, Othman Ali, 2010-01-01 Studies in Islamic Civilization draws upon the works of Western scholars to make the case that without the tremendous contribution of the Muslim world there would have been no Renaissance in Europe For almost a thousand years Islam was arguably one of the leading civilizations of the world spanning a geographic area greater than any other It eliminated social distinctions between classes and races made clear that people should enjoy the bounties of the earth provided they did not ignore morals and ethics and rescued knowledge that would have been lost if not forever then at least for centuries The genius of its scholars triggered the intellectual tradition of Europe and for over seven hundred years its language Arabic was the international language of science Strange then that its legacy lies largely ignored and buried in time In the words of Aldous Huxley Great is truth but still greater from a practical point of view is silence about truth By simply not mentioning certain subjects propagandists have influenced opinion much more effectively than they could have by the most eloquent denunciations Studies in Islamic Civilization is a compelling attempt to redress this wrong and restore the historical truths of a golden age that ushered in the Islamic renaissance and as a by product that of the West In doing so it gives a bird's eye view of the achievements of a culture that at its height was considered the model of human progress and development
