

CONTROL UNIT

ENGINE-ECU

Engine-ECU is installed in the engine room. Engine-ECU judges (calculates) the optimum control to deal with the constant minute changes in driving conditions based on information input from the sensors and drives the actuator. Engine-ECU is composed of 32-bit microprocessor and Random Access Memory (RAM), Read Only Memory (ROM) and Input/Output interface. Engine-ECU uses flash-memory ROM that allows re-writing of data so that change and correction of control data is possible using special tools. It also uses Electrically Erasable Programmable Read Only Memory (EEPROM) so that studied compensation data is not deleted even if battery terminals are disconnected.
