NERVOUS SYSTEM

Control and Coordination

NERVOUS SYSTEM

The nervous system of all animals consists of highly specialized nervous cells called neurons. These neurons are connected to each other by long chains called nerves. The nerves carry the impulses of various organs from the brain and spinal cord to the rest of the body.

Neuron

Neurons are the basic units of the nervous system. They are made up of a cell body, dendrites, and an axon. The cell body contains the nucleus and other organelles. Dendrites are short branches that receive signals from other neurons. The axon is a long fiber that carries signals away from the cell body.

Brain

The brain is the central part of the nervous system. It is divided into three main parts: the cerebrum, the cerebellum, and the brainstem. The cerebrum is the largest part and is responsible for most of the higher functions of the brain, such as thinking, feeling, and voluntary actions. The cerebellum is smaller and is responsible for coordination and balance. The brainstem is the base of the brain and is responsible for basic functions like breathing and heart rate.
