A Boy in Terezin Pavel Weiner, Karen Weiner, 2012 Written by a Czech Jewish boy A Boy in Terez n covers a year of Pavel Weiner s life in the Theresienstadt transit camp in the Czech town of Terez

n from April 1944 until liberation in April 1945 The Germans claimed that Theresienstadt was the town the Führer gave the Jews and they temporarily transformed it into a Potemkin village for an International Red Cross visit in June 1944 the only Nazi camp opened to outsiders But the Germans lied Theresienstadt was a holding pen for Jews to be shipped east to annihilation camps While famous and infamous figures and historical events flit across the pages they form the background for Pavel's life Assigned to the now famous Czech boys home L417 Pavel served as editor of the magazine Ne ar Relationships sports the quest for food and a determination to continue their education dominate the boys' lives Pavel's father and brother were deported in September 1944 he turned thirteen the age for his bar mitzvah in November of that year and he grew in his ability to express his observations and reflect on them A Boy in Terezín registers the young boy's insights hopes and fears and recounts a passage into maturity during the most horrifying of times The Education Systems of Europe Wolfgang Hörner, Hans Döbert, Botho von Kopp, Wolfgang Mitter, 2007-05-03 Education is a paradoxical phenomenon On the one hand it is universal as since the period of Enlightenment it has been declared universal good for everybody Moreover we learnt by historical research following the ideas of world system theory that since this time as far as its main structures are concerned compulsory state education given by professional teachers in classrooms it took even universal traits However on the other hand the fact that education became state education organised or at least controlled by the state was the beginning of another tradition line education in the form of state organised educational institutions became a means of creating national identity Universal inclusion as for the light of reason shining for everybody is opposed to more or less nationalist exclusion of all the others shaping the feature of a particular nation state with a particular educational system This fundamental dialectical tension between the universal and the particular was one of the important motives to make this handbook One of the central issues of the country studies is precisely to display the relationship between universal values and the search for national identity Another motive is given by the European dimension of the handbook Unexplored Dimensions of Discrimination Tito Boeri, Eleonora Patacchini, Giovanni Peri, 2015 A volume on discrimination in the labour market Part One addresses career paths schooling choice and the gender wage gap Part Two addresses unexplored dimensions of discrimination with particular attention to physical appearance obesity religion and sexual orientation
