

Steps to Writing a Response Essay

Step 1

What you need to do prior to starting the writing process

Read provided text several times; note down any areas that you feel might be of much importance to you in essay writing process. A reading journal comes in handy here.

The notes you prepare as you read will form the basis of your reaction essay's focus. Do not worry about organization of notes at this stage; they only help you from emphasis of your essay.

Step 3

Start writing: Have a strong introduction

Use a strong thesis statement to hook readers. Let readers know the article or book you are writing a reaction to, and do not forget to include text's author(s). Use introduction to state your essay's focus.

Step 5

Conclusion

Your last paragraph, after the body, is a conclusion. It ends your essay by offering a summary of all points you have made and draws some inference.

Make your conclusion as brief as possible but informative, and leave no chances for readers to ask questions like "so what?". In addition, do not introduce any new arguments in this part.

Step 2

Get a topic

Just similar to any other piece of writing, this one needs to have a topic. Is the something that interested you? To establish your focus, use a couple of questions to test you just read. The following are examples of question to use:

- Is there anything significant about the text?
- What is my reaction to certain aspects of text? (what I like, dislike)
- What can I remember?
- Did I understand everything?

Your topic should be informative. While it can be overwhelming to choose something that interests you, it is also important to consider whether you will have enough points to reach to the aspect of text you are focusing on.

Step 4

Write the body

The body of yours essay should come immediately after introduction. Here, you need to discuss your subject deeply. Use short and precise paragraphs to divide ideas. Use one paragraph at a time to discuss new evidence but ensure that there is consistency and flow in your arguments.

Reaction essays are not short, which implies that you do not need heading everywhere, unless your teacher instructs otherwise.

Step 6

Editing and proofreading

Ensure that you proofread and edit your first draft. The editing part focuses on changing contents, format, and structure.

Proofreading, on the other hand, helps you identify and correct punctuation and spelling mistakes.

college students to seek majors they perceive as more practical the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics projects job growth for anthropologists and archaeologists through 2020 at 21% which is faster than the average for all other occupations

- 1 And more undergraduate students in the United States are majoring in the social sciences and history than ever before 175 000 students were social science and history majors in 2009 10 the specific number of anthropology majors is not available 2 In Canada another 134 700 undergraduates major in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Law 4 000 of them in anthropology
- 3 Beyond serving their own majors anthropology departments offer many courses for non majors indeed at many universities it is one of the go to fields for students seeking to fulfill both general education and W writing intensive course requirements

Writing is central to the work of anthropologists and they employ a wide range of genres including fieldnotes ethnographies journal articles reviews reports essays personal narratives and grant proposals Most anthropology courses both those in the major and for general education and W requirements include substantial writing assignments Those assignments often align with the professional genres listed above but perhaps more are framed as school or apprentice genres reading responses summaries literature reviews personal reflections and research papers designed to help students process course content While anthropologists appreciate good writing and occasionally focus explicitly on it each year for example the American Anthropological Association holds a workshop on writing for graduate students and professionals there is no compact practical writing guide that meets the needs of undergraduates and beginning graduate students This Brief Guide aims to address that gap by pursuing four goals Introduce the major genres and habits of writing in anthropology Explain how reflexivity expression and interpretation are vital to the field Convey insider strategies for writing and editing in the discipline Describe the basic conventions for using sources and to model a scholarly yet accessible style
