Lord Turner Fsa Report:

The FSA's Report Into the Failure of RBS Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2012-10-19
This report identifies issues arising from the FSA's report into the failure of RBS that may merit further legislative or regulatory change. The report also considers the value of the reporting process for understanding the causes of RBS's failure and for ensuring that appropriate lessons have been learnt. The Government should include an explicit requirement for the Prudential Regulation Authority to approve major bank acquisitions and mergers in forthcoming legislation and the Treasury should report on the legislative or other changes it proposes to make to the current regime regulating acquisitions in the banking sector. The Bank of England has still to produce a comprehensive review of the Bank's role in and response to the crisis. Any lessons learned will only be available at a very late stage in Parliament's consideration of the Financial Services Bill when incorporation of them into legislation may be more difficult. The Parliamentary Commission on Banking Standards should examine the PRA's approach to banking supervision. The Government should consult on whether additional legislation is required to ensure that directors or other senior executives of failed banks cannot work in other regulated industries in future or to make the system more certain. The Committee supports attempts to remedy the misalignment of incentives embedded within the financial services framework. The introduction of strict liability would be a major change to the existing legal framework and would require full public debate. The Parliamentary Commission on Banking Standards should examine this and other options.

Accountability in the Contemporary Constitution Nicholas Bamforth, Peter Leyland, 2013-11-14
Accountability is regarded as a central feature of modern constitutionalism. At a general level this prominence is perhaps unsurprising given the long history of the idea. However in many constitutional democracies including the UK and the USA it has acquired a particular resonance in contemporary circumstances with the declining power of social deference, the expanding reach of populist accountability mechanisms and the increasing willingness of citizens to find mechanisms for challenging official decision making. These essays by public law scholars seek to explore how ideas of and mechanisms associated with accountability play a part in the contemporary constitution. While the majority of contributors concentrate on the United Kingdom others provide comparative discussion with particular reference to the United States and aspects of European Union law. The main focus of the volume is the contemporary UK constitution. Chapters are included which analyse the historical context including the role of Dicey common law constitutionalism, the constitutional role of Parliament, the constitutional role of the courts, judicial accountability, human rights protection under the constitution and the contribution of non-judicial accountability mechanisms. Further chapters explore the public service principle, the impact of new public management on public service delivery and the relationship between accountability and regulation. Finally, accountability is discussed in the light of constitutional reform including the challenges posed by the multi-layered government at the supra-national level of EU membership and sub-national national levels of devolution and local government.

Financial Crimes Maximilian Edelbacher, Peter Kratcoski, Michael Theil, 2012-06-04 Financial market reform has focused chiefly on the threats to stability arising from the risky uncontrolled activity of the leaders of financial institutions Nevertheless organized crime white collar crime and corruption have a huge impact on financial systems worldwide and must also be confronted if true reform is to be achieved A collection

Rethinking Corporate Governance in Financial Institutions Demetra Arsalidou, 2015-11-06 There are many deep seated reasons for the current financial turmoil but a key factor has undoubtedly been the serious failings within the corporate governance practices of financial institutions There have been shortcomings in the risk management and incentive structures the boards supervision was at times weak disclosure and accounting standards were in some cases inadequate the institutional investors engagement with management was at times insufficient and last but not least the remuneration policies of many large institutions appeared inappropriate This book will provide a critical overview and analysis of key corporate governance weaknesses focusing primarily on three main areas directors failure to understand complex company transactions the poor remuneration practices of financial institutions and finally the failure of institutional investors to sufficiently engage with management The book while largely focused on the UK will also consider EU and Australian developments as well as offering a comparative angle looking at the corporate governance of financial institutions in the US

Fixing LIBOR Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2012-08-21 This report follows the Committee's inquiry into the Final Notice issued by the Financial Services Authority with respect to Barclays on 27 June 2012 The Committee has called for action in a number of areas including higher fines for firms that fail to co operate with regulators the need to examine gaps in the criminal law and a much stronger governance framework at the Bank of England The manipulations were made possible by a prolonged period of extremely weak internal compliance and board governance at Barclays as well as a failure of regulatory supervision Nor was it spotted either by the FSA or the Bank of England at the time The evidence that Mr Tucker Mr Diamond and Mr del Missier separately gave about this manipulation describes a combination of circumstances which would excuse all the participants from the charge of deliberate wrongdoing If they are all to be believed an extraordinary but conceivably plausible series of miscommunications occurred It is also unlikely that Barclays was the only bank attempting the manipulations In explaining what was wrong with the general culture at Barclays the FSA showed some welcome evidence of a new judgement led regulatory approach Regulators should not decide the composition of boards in response to headlines and many will wonder why they did not intervene earlier to remove Mr Diamond The Bank of England should have had adequate procedures in place for at least the making of a File note of conversations such as that between Mr Tucker and Mr Diamond The Wheatley review should now look at the role of the BBA in LIBOR setting at that time in detail and publish its findings The Parliamentary Commission on Banking Standards examination of the corporate governance of systemically important financial institutions should consider how to mitigate the risk that the leadership style of a chief executive may permit a lack of effective challenge or to the firm committing strategic mistakes

this book makes concrete recommendations for improving the security of the financial services industry and holding bankers to account

Committee,2011-02-03 Additional written evidence is contained in volume 3 available on the Committee website at www.parliament.uk/treascom      Global Finance in Crisis Eric Helleiner,Stefano Pagliari,Hubert Zimmermann,2010-01-21

Presents a systematic analysis of the international regulatory response to the global financial crisis This volume examines the changes in international financial regulation from the vantage point of the key powers in global finance including the US the EU Japan and China      Banking Crisis Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Treasury Committee,2009 This report examines remuneration in the City of London as well as the nexus of private actors including non executive directors institutional shareholders auditors and credit rating agencies who failed to act as a check on and balance to senior managers and the executive boards of banks The report concludes that the banking crisis has exposed serious flaws and shortcomings in remuneration practices in the banking sector and in particular within investment banking The Committee is concerned that the FSA s Turner Review downplays the role that remuneration played in causing the banking crisis and questions whether the regulator is attaching sufficient priority to tackling the issue The Committee notes the culture in the City of London which encouraged excessive risk taking Lord Myners assertion that his precept to the RBS Board that there should be no reward for failure did not represent an adequate oversight of the remuneration of outgoing senior bank staff and the report casts doubt on the Treasury s decision to rely on the then RBS Board to handle negotiations with these staff without direct Treasury involvement The financial crisis has exposed serious flaws and shortcomings in the system of non executive oversight of bank executives Three problems are noted the lack of time many non executives commit to their role with many combining a senior full time position with multiple non executive directorships in many instances a lack of expertise and a lack of diversity The failure of institutional investors effectively to scrutinise and monitor the decision of boards and executive management in the banking sector may reflect the low priority some institutional investors have accorded to governance issues in some cases they may have even encouraged the risk taking that proved the downfall of some banks
