Reviews of National Policies for Education: South Africa 2008 OECD,2008-09-05 Gives a brief overview of regional issues and the history of education in South Africa and describes the development of education in the country over the past 15 years It presents an analysis of the education system identifying key directions for South Africa Survey ,2008

Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform Coert Loock,Vanessa Scherman,2019-11-20 Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform provides background information on large scale examination systems more generally and the South African examination specifically It traces the reforms in the education system of South Africa since 1994 and provides a description of the advances in modern test theory that could be considered for future standard setting endeavours At the heart of the book is the debate on whether the current standard of education in Africa is good enough If not then how can it be improved The aim of this book is to provide a point of departure for discussions on standard setting quality assurance equating of examinations and assessment approaches From this point of departure recommendations for practices in general and the exit level Grade 12 examination results in particular can be made This book is ideal reading for principals teachers academics and researchers in the fields of educational assessment measurement and evaluation Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman,John Read,Theo du Plessis,2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

High-Stakes Testing in Education Theo J.H.M Eggen,Gordon Stobart,2015-10-14 High stakes educational testing is a global phenomenon which is increasing in both scale and importance Assessments are high stakes when there are serious consequences for one or more stakeholders Historically tests have largely been used for selection or for providing a licence to practise making them high stakes for the test takers Testing is now also used for the purposes of improving standards of teaching and learning and of holding schools accountable for their students results These tests then become high stakes for teachers and schools especially when they have to meet externally imposed targets More recent has been the emergence of international comparative testing which has become high stakes for governments and policy makers as their education systems are judged in relation to the performances of other countries In this book we draw on research which examines each of these uses of high stakes testing The articles evaluate the impact of such assessments and explore the issues of value and fairness which they raise To underline the international appeal of high stakes testing the studies are drawn from Australia Africa the Caribbean Europe former Soviet republics and North America Collectively they illustrate the power of high stakes assessment in shaping for better or for worse policy making and schooling This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education Principles Policy Practice The Mathematics Education for the Future Project – Proceedings of the 14th International Conference Alan Rogerson, Janina Morska, 2017-07-01 This volume contains the papers presented at the International Conference on Challenges in Mathematics Education for the Next Decade held from September 10 15 2017 in Balatonf red Hungary The Conference was organized by The Mathematics Education for the Future Project an international educational project founded in 1986 Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012 The Global Testing Culture William C. Smith, 2016-01-04 The past thirty years have seen a rapid expansion of testing exposing students worldwide to tests that are now more than ever standardized and linked to high stakes outcomes The use of testing as a policy tool has been legitimized within international educational development to measure education quality in the vast majority of countries worldwide The embedded nature and normative power of high stakes standardized testing across national contexts can be understood as a global testing culture The global testing culture permeates all aspects of education from financing to parental involvement to teacher and student beliefs and practices The reinforcing nature of the global testing culture leads to an environment where testing becomes synonymous with accountability which becomes synonymous with education quality Underlying the global testing culture is a set of values identified from the increasing literature on world culture. These include education as a human right, academic intelligence, faith in science, decentralization, and neoliberalism. Each of these values highlights different aspects of the dialogue in support of high stakes standardized testing. The wide approval of these values and their ability to legitimate various aspects of high stakes testing reinforces the taken-for-granted notion that such tests are effective and appropriate education practices. However, a large body of literature emphasizes the negative unintended consequences: teaching to the test, reshaping the testing pool, the inequitable distribution of school resources and teachers' attention, and reconstructing the role of the student, teacher, and parent, commonly found when standardized census-based tests are combined with high stakes outcomes for educators or students. This book problematizes this culture by providing critical perspectives that challenge the assumptions of the culture and describe how the culture manifests in national contexts. The volume makes it clear that testing per se is not the problem. Instead, it is how tests are administered, used, or misused and linked to accountability that provide the global testing culture with its powerful ability to shape schools and society and lead to its unintended undesirable consequences.

Secondary School External Examination Systems Barend Vlaardingerbroek, Neil Taylor, 2009. Summative assessment has been a contentious issue in educational circles for several decades, particularly high stakes assessment events which arise at various junctures of the school cycle, especially those at the end of it. The French Baccalaureat and English A Levels and their numerous clones throughout the francophone and anglophone worlds are household names and represent milestone events in people's lives as their outcomes are principal determinants of young people's future prospects. These examinations are external; they are devised, conducted, and processed by agencies outside the schools, usually ministerial examination units. As such, they act as blind arbiters of student achievement, providing the proverbial level playing field which ensures the comparability of outcomes. In the pyramidal school structures of yesteryear, examinations acted as filters regulating the progression of pupils to subsequent tiers of formal education. Exit points occurred from primary school level up from where unsuccessful candidates could enter the labour force and/or embark on occupationally specific further education and training. With the modernisation of the labour market and an ever higher social demand for access to higher levels of formal education, the filtering function of examinations at lower levels of schooling has been gradually eroded while burgeoning numbers of students at the upper secondary level have brought about reforms that include curricular diversification and sometimes radical overhauls of terminating assessment systems, including the modification and, in some instances, abandonment of external examinations. This edited volume brings together the experiences of twenty examination systems from around the world to show how these dynamic entities have adapted over time to the changing context of schooling. Following an introduction by Stephen P. Heyneman of World Bank repute, there are sixteen chapters presenting Country Case Studies which have been written up under common subheadings, thereby highlighting the comparative nature of the work and facilitating cross-referencing. The subsequent four chapters elaborate on the theme of external examinations.

beyond national borders including a contribution by the International Baccalaureate Organisation A defining feature of the work is the attention it pays to what it calls the nuts and bolts of external examinations from question setting to grading procedures These are it is argued instrumental in nurturing and maintaining public confidence in external examinations The book will be of immense value to people involved in educational policy studies especially strategic educational planning as well as those directly concerned with formal assessment The work has been written to appeal to a wide audience of informed persons it is accessible to teachers and interested laypeople as well as to academics Schools Effectiveness and Schools Improvement in South Africa Tsediso Michael Makoelle,Raj Mestry,Pierre Du Plessis,2023-08-04 This book provides a comprehensive account how school leaders conceptualize the notion of school improvement and school effectiveness in a South African school context The various authors have critically examined crucial themes accentuating school improvement and school effectiveness and encapsulating the pertinent perspectives of curriculum leadership resource management professional development school administration school development planning inclusion and equity student management and the role of school management teams This book is targeted at aspiring and practicing school leaders school administrators policy makers and scholars of school leadership and management across different levels who intend positively changing the education landscape of not only South Africa but also other developing and underdeveloped countries Annual Performance Plan Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education,2015 Imagined Liberation Heribert Adam,Kogila Moodley,2013-12-01 On a spectrum of hostility towards irregular migrants South Africa ranks on top Germany in the middle and Canada at the bottom South African xenophobic violence by impoverished slum dwellers is directed against fellow Africans Why would a society that liberated itself in the name of human rights turn against people who escaped human rights violations or unlivable conditions at home What happened to the expected African solidarity Why do former victims become victimizers Imagined Liberation asks what xenophobic societies can learn from other immigrant societies which avoided the backlash against multiculturalism in Europe Financial Mail ,2005-08 Annual Report for the Financial Year ...
