Cumulative Book Index, 1925 A world list of books in the English language Whitaker's Cumulative Book List, 1969 Journal of the Florida Education Association Florida Education Association, 1928 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1902 Mathematical Principles of the Internet, Volume 2 Nirdosh Bhatnagar, 2018-11-21 This two volume set on Mathematical Principles of the Internet provides a comprehensive overview of the mathematical principles of Internet engineering The books do not aim to provide all of the mathematical foundations upon which the Internet is based Instead they cover a partial panorama and the key principles Volume 1 explores Internet engineering while the supporting mathematics is covered in Volume 2 The chapters on mathematics complement those on the engineering episodes and an effort has been made to make this work succinct yet self contained Elements of information theory algebraic coding theory cryptography Internet traffic dynamics and control of Internet congestion and queueing theory are discussed In addition stochastic networks graph theoretic algorithms application of game theory to the Internet Internet economics data mining and knowledge discovery and quantum computation communication and cryptography are also discussed In order to study the structure and function of the Internet only a basic knowledge of number theory abstract algebra matrices and determinants graph theory geometry analysis optimization theory probability theory and stochastic processes is required These mathematical disciplines are defined and developed in the books to the extent that is needed to develop and justify their application to Internet engineering An Introduction to Algebraic Topology Joseph J. Rotman, 2013-11-11 There is a canard that every textbook of algebraic topology either ends with the definition of the Klein bottle or is a personal communication to J H C Whitehead Of course this is false as a glance at the books of Hilton and Wylie Maunier Munkres and Schubert reveals Still the canard does reflect some truth Too often one finds too much generality and too little attention to details There are two types of obstacle for the student learning algebraic topology The first is the formidable array of new techniques e g most students know very little homological algebra the second obstacle is that the basic definitions have been so abstracted that their geometric or analytic origins have been obscured I have tried to overcome these barriers In the first instance new definitions are introduced only when needed e g homology with coefficients and cohomology are deferred until after the Eilenberg Steenrod axioms have been verified for the three homology theories we treat singular simplicial and cellular Moreover many exercises are given to help the reader assimilate material In the second instance important definitions are often accompanied by an informal discussion describing their origins e g winding numbers are discussed before computing 1st St Green's theorem occurs before defining homology and differential forms appear before introducing cohomology We assume that the reader has had a first course in point set topology but we do discuss quotient spaces path connectedness and function spaces

Statistical Digital Signal Processing and Modeling Monson H. Hayes, 1996-04-19 This new text responds to the dramatic growth in digital signal processing DSP over the past decade and is the product of many years of teaching an advanced DSP course at Georgia Tech While the focal point of the text is signal modeling it integrates and explores the relationships of signal modeling to the important problems of optimal filtering spectrum estimation and adaptive filtering Coverage is equally divided between the theory and philosophy of statistical signal processing and the algorithms that are used to solve related problems The text reflects the author's philosophy that a deep understanding of signal processing is accomplished best through working problems For this reason the book is loaded with worked examples homework problems and MATLAB computer exercises While the examples serve to illustrate the ideas developed in the book the problems seek to motivate and challenge the student and the computer exercises allow the student to experiment with signal processing algorithms on complex signals Professor Hayes is recognized as a leader in the signal processing community particularly for his work in signal reconstruction and image processing This text is suitable for senior graduate level courses in advanced DSP or digital filtering found in Electrical Engineering Departments Prerequisites include basic courses in DSP and probability theory

Making Minds Less Well Educated Than Our Own Roger C. Schank, 2004-04-26 In the author's words This book is an honest attempt to understand what it means to be educated in today's world His argument is this No matter how important science and technology seem to industry or government or indeed to the daily life of people as a society we believe that those educated in literature history and other humanities are in some way better informed more knowing and somehow more worthy of the descriptor well educated This 19th century conception of the educated mind weighs heavily on our notions on how we educate our young When we focus on intellectual and scholarly issues in high school as opposed to issues such as communications basic psychology or child raising we are continuing to rely on outdated notions of the educated mind that come from elitist notions of who is to be educated and what that means To accommodate the realities of today's world it is necessary to change these elitist notions We need to rethink what it means to be educated and begin to focus on a new conception of the very idea of education Students need to learn how to think not how to accomplish tasks such as passing standardized tests and reciting rote facts In this engaging book Roger C Schank sets forth the premises of his argument cites its foundations in the Great Books themselves and illustrates it with examples from an experimental curriculum that has been used in graduate schools and with K 12 students Making Minds Less Well Educated

Than Our Own is essential reading for scholars and students in the learning sciences instructional design curriculum theory and planning educational policy school reform philosophy of education higher education and anyone interested in what it means to be educated in today's world
