The Archaeology of V. Gordon Childe Vere Gordon Childe, 1994-07 Although V Gordon Childe died 36 years ago he remains the world's most renowned prehistorian His What Happened in History first published in 1942 is probably the most widely read book ever written by an archaeologist His influence and reputation endure despite the fact that many of the theoretical ideas he propounded as well as his interpretations of European and West Asian prehistory have been profoundly modified or even rejected since his death With contributions from such distinguished prehistorians as Kent V Flannery David Harris Leo S Klejn John Mulvaney Colin Renfrew Michael Rowlands and Bruce Trigger The Archaeology of V Gordon Childe is an attempt to evaluate Childe's achievement from different partly national perspectives and to assess how far and why his work remains significant today The contributors examine such persistent themes in Childe's thought as the nature of culture and the role of diffusion in cultural evolution and debate the question of whether Childe anticipated processual archaeology in his famous models of the Neolithic and Urban Revolutions Also included are evaluations of Childe's early career in Australia his relations with Soviet archaeology including a previously unknown letter from Childe to Soviet archaeologists and his impact on American archaeology

History of the United States of America, from the Discovery of the Continent George Bancroft, 1884 History of the United States of America George Bancroft, 1884 To Build and Be Built Eric Zakim, 2006-02-09 Eric Zakim follows the literary and intellectual career of the powerful Zionist slogan to build and be built from its conceptual origin in reaction to the Kishinev pogroms of 1903 when it first served as an expression of settlement aspiration until the end of pre state national expansion in Palestine in 1938 Draining the swamps and making the desert bloom the Jewish settlers imagined themselves as performing miracles on the land By these acts they were also meant to reinvent the very notion of what it was to be a Jew in the modern world As Jewish settlers reshaped nature in the Holy Land by turning it from one thing into another they too were newly constructed Zakim argues that in the period leading up to the establishment of the state of Israel the action of working the land and building its cities in order to transform both into something essentially Jewish increasingly came to mark a turn inward toward the reclamation of a Jewish subject tied to the very soil of Palestine To Build and Be Built radically recontextualizes modernist Hebrew literature to demonstrate how literary aesthetics of nature formed the very political discourse they nominally reflected Zakim's work sees no division between politics and representation Instead the depiction of nature in literature art and architecture became constitutive of a political and social understanding of the Jew's place in the Middle East By refusing to acknowledge the disciplinary boundaries of standard works on literature history and political thought To Build and Be Built challenges the methodological certainties that have guided popular and academic understandings of the development of Zionist involvement in the land of Israel For this reason To Build and Be Built will be of interest to people beyond literature in particular those working in history and those outside of Israel studies who have an interest in modernism and the representation of nature in the history of culture The Complete Works of John Buchan

Companion to Modern Imperial Histories John Marriott, 2016-03-23 Written by leading scholars this collection provides a comprehensive and authoritative overview of modern empires Spanning the era of modern imperial history from the early sixteenth century to the present it challenges both the rather insular focuses on specific experiences and gives due attention to imperial formations outside the West including the Russian Japanese Mughal Ottoman and Chinese The companion is divided into three broad sections Part I Times surveys the three main eras of modern imperialism The first was that dominated by the settlement impulse with migrants many voluntarily and many more by force making new lives in the colonies This impulse gave way most especially in the nineteenth century to a period of busy and rapid expansion which was less likely to promote new settlement and in which colonists more frequently saw their sojourn in colonial lands as temporary and related to the business mostly of governance and trade Lastly in the twentieth century in particular empires began to fail and to fall Part II Spaces studies the principal imperial formations of the modern world Each chapter charts the experience of a specific empire while at the same time placing it within the complex patterns of wider imperial constellations The individual chapters thus survey the broad dynamics of change within the empires themselves and their relationships with other imperial formations and reflect critically on the ways in which these topics have been approached in the literature In Part III Themes scholars think critically about some of the key features of imperial expansion and decline These chapters are brief and many are provocative They reflect the current state of the field and suggest new lines of inquiry which may follow from more comparative perspectives on empire The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire National Union Catalog , 1978 Includes entries for maps and atlases
