Handbook of Research in Educational Communications and Technology M. J. Bishop, Elizabeth Boling, Jan Elen, Vanessa Svihla, 2020-09-21 The 5th edition of the prestigious AECT Handbook continues previous efforts to reach outside the traditional instructional design and technology community to the learning sciences and computer information systems communities toward developing a conceptualization of the field However given the pervasive and increasingly complex role technology now plays in education since the 1st edition of the Handbook in 1996 the editors have reorganized the research chapters in this edition to focus on the learning problems we are trying to solve with educational technologies rather than to focus on the things we are using to solve those problems Additionally for the first time this edition of the Handbook reflects our field's growing understanding of the importance of design scholarship to inform practice by including design case chapters These changes for this edition of the Handbook are intended to bring educational technology research into the broader framework of educational research by elaborating on the role instructional design and technology plays as a scholarly discipline in addressing education's increasingly complex issues Provides comprehensive reviews of new developments in educational technology research and design practice Includes concrete examples to guide future research and practice in the ways emerging technologies can be used to solve educational problems Contains extensive references furnished to guide readers to the most recent research and design practice in the field of instructional design and technology

This Much I Know About Mind Over Matter ... John Tomsett, 2017-02-17 In This Much I Know about Mind Over Matter John Tomsett addresses with refreshing honesty the growing problem of the mental health issues experienced by children and young people offering up a plan for averting a mental health crisis in our schools Tomsett interweaves his formative and professional experience with strategies for addressing students mental health issues and insights from his interviews with high profile thinkers on the subject including Professor Tanya Byron Natasha Devon Norman Lamb Tom Bennett Claire Fox and Dr Ken McLaughlin The book is replete with truths about the state of children's mental wellbeing about creating a school culture where everyone can thrive and about living in the shadow of his mother's manic depression With his typical mixture of experience wisdom and research based evidence Tomsett explains how he manages the pressure of modern day state school headship in a climate where you are only as good as your last set of examination results a pressure which acutely affects staff and students too He outlines his strategies for mitigating this pressure and turning the tide of students mental health problems The autobiographical narrative modulates between self-effacing humour and heart wrenching stories of his mother's life blighted by mental illness. His professional reflections are a wisdom-filled blend of evidence-based policy and decades of experience in teaching and school leadership. Tomsett writes with genuine humility. His prose is beautiful in its seeming simplicity. When you pick up one of his books, you will find you have read the first fifty pages before you have even noticed, surely the hallmark of truly great writing. Topics covered include the real state of the nation's mental health, the perfect storm that is precipitating a mental health crisis in schools, the problems of loose terminology, what do we really mean when we talk about a mental health epidemic and poor understanding of mental health problems and mental illness, the disparity between mental and physical health in public discourse, treatment and funding, beginning the conversation about mental health, the philosophical and psychological principles underpinning the debate, strategies to support students in managing their own mental health, better resilience, growth mindset, mindfulness, grit, failure and mistakes, coping with pressure, York's school wellbeing workers project, evidence-based strategies that have worked in Huntington School, metacognitive strategies for improving exam performance, interviews with professionals in the field, the reality of living with a parent with a serious mental illness, self-concept and achievement perfectionism, the relationship between academic rigour and therapeutic education, and significantly, what the research says, what the experts say, and what Tomsett's experience says about averting a mental health crisis in schools. Suitable for teachers, leaders, and anyone with an interest in mental health in schools.

Life and the Law in the Era of Data-Driven Agency Mireille Hildebrandt, Kieron O'Hara, 2020-01-31

This ground-breaking and timely book explores how big data, artificial intelligence, and algorithms are creating new types of agency and the impact that this is having on our lives and the rule of law. Addressing the issues in a thoughtful, cross-disciplinary manner, leading scholars in law, philosophy, computer science, and politics examine the ways in which data-driven agency is transforming democratic practices and the meaning of individual choice.

Disability Studies

Tim Corcoran, Julie White, Ben Whitburn, 2015-07-22

Education systems worldwide will only successfully serve the needs of people with disability when we inclusively examine and address disabling issues that currently exist at school level, education as well as further and higher education, and beyond. The chapters contributing to this edited volume are presented to assist readers with a critical examination of contemporary practice and offer a concerted response to improving inclusive education. The chapters address a range of important topics related to the field of critical disability studies in education and include sections dedicated to Schools, Higher Education, Family and Community, and Theorising. The contributors entered into discussions during the 2014 AERA Special Interest Group annual meeting hosted by Victoria University in Australia. The perspectives offered here include academic, practitioner, student, and parent, with contributions from Australia, New Zealand, Nigeria, the UK, and the US, providing transnational interest. This book will appeal to readers who are interested in innovative theoretical approaches, practical applications, and personal narratives. The book is accessible for scholars and students in disciplines including education, sociology, psychology, social work, youth studies, as well as public and allied health. The

Innovation in China William H.A. Johnson, 2015-07-22 The word innovation is often used today regarding China as if the concept were new to the Eastern country Most people know however that China was a juggernaut in creating new technologies and at one time was the innovation king of the world but that was at least seven centuries ago Today the great oriental power is attempting once again to take the throne of innovation for its own This desire to usurp the throne which had been diligently taken by the West during the Scientific Revolution has placed an almost unrealistic emphasis on innovation In Innovation in China The Tail of the Dragon the author explores the issues and actors involved in making innovation the emphasis in China He uses a simple systems model of innovation and various perceptual lenses The lenses are aimed at the historical economic political legal educational and cultural elements of an innovation based society After reading the book the reader will understand more about how innovation is happening in China and by whom More importantly the reader will begin a journey of learning more about where the country is going as it relentlessly continues its drive to create an innovation based society and to become once again in terms appropriate to its history the Emperor of Innovation

Forestry Economics John E. Wagner, 2023-12-22 Forestry Economics introduces students and practitioners to the economics of managing forests and forest enterprises The book adopts the approach of managerial economics textbooks and applies this to the unique problems and production processes faced by managers of forests and forest enterprises What many future forest and natural resource managers need is to understand what economic information is and how to use it to make better business and management decisions John E

Wagner draws on his 30 years of experience teaching and working in the field of forest resource economics to present students with an accessible understanding of the unique production processes and problems faced by forest and other natural resource managers. The second edition has been updated to include Expanded discussion of compounding discounting and capital budgeting as well as an expanded discussion of when to replace a capital asset that has i costs but no direct revenue stream such as a machine ii costs and a direct annual revenue stream such as a solar array or iii costs and a periodic revenue stream illustrated by the forest rotation problem. New practical examples to provide students with applications of the concepts being discussed in the text most notably on New Zealand and a Radiata Pine Pinus radiata Plantation. A brand new chapter that develops business plans for for profit businesses to illustrate how a business plan is derived from the economic information contained within the Architectural Plan for Profit and how it can be used to make business decisions about continuing to operate a business or to start a new business. This textbook is an invaluable source of clear and accessible information on forestry economics and management not only for economics students but also for students of other disciplines and those already working in forestry and natural resources.

Economic Aspects of Genocides, Other Mass Atrocities, and Their Prevention Charles H. Anderton, Jurgen Brauer, 2016-05-09. Alongside other types of mass atrocities genocide has received extensive scholarly policy and practitioner attention. Missing however is the contribution of economists to better understand and prevent such crimes. This edited collection by 41 accomplished scholars examines economic aspects of genocides, other mass atrocities and their prevention. Chapters include numerous case studies e.g. California's Yana people, Australia's Aborigines, Stalin's killing of Ukrainians, Belarus, the Holocaust, Rwanda, DR Congo, Indonesia, Pakistan, Colombia, Mexico's drug wars and the targeting of suspects during the Vietnam war, probing literature reviews and completely novel work based on extraordinary country specific datasets. Also included are chapters on the demographic, gendered and economic class nature of genocide. Replete with research and policy relevant findings, new insights are derived from behavioral economics, law and economics, political economy, macroeconomic modeling, microeconomics, development economics, industrial organization, identity economics and other fields. Analytical approaches include constrained optimization, theory, game theory and sophisticated statistical work in data mining, econometrics and forecasting. A foremost finding of the book concerns atrocity architects' purposeful strategic use of violence, often manipulating nonrational proclivities among ordinary people to sway their participation in mass murder. Relatively understudied in the literature, the book also analyzes the options of victims before, during and after mass violence. Further, the book shows how well intended prevention efforts can backfire and increase violence, how wrong post genocide design can entrench vested interests to reinforce exclusion of vulnerable peoples and how businesses can become complicit in genocide. In addition to the necessity of healthy opportunities in employment, education and key sectors in prevention work, the book shows why new genocide prevention laws and institutions must be based on reformulated incentives that consider insights from law and economics, behavioral economics and collective action economics

Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed.

Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
