The Dirty College Game Al Figone, 2019-07-25 Commercial aspects of college football and basketball during the mid to late 20th century were dominated by a few get rich quick schools Though the NCAA was responsible for controlling such facets of college sports the organization was unwilling and unable to control the excesses of the few who opposed the majority opinion The result was a period of corruption rules violations unnecessary injuries and overspending These events led to the formation of larger conferences richer bowl games and rules intended to preserve the money making value of college football and basketball This book explores gambling academic fraud illegal booster activity and the single minded pursuit of television contracts in college sports as well as the NCAA's involvement or lack thereof in such cases

When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit, 2018-07-26 The peaceful end of apartheid in South Africa was a monumental event in late twentieth century history A racist regime built upon a foundation of colonialist exploitation South Africa had become by that point a tinderbox suffused with day to day violence and political extremism on all sides Yet two decades later it was a stable democracy with a growing economy How did such a deeply divided conflicted society manage this remarkable transition In When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit who has been a participant and close observer in post conflict developments throughout Africa for decades offers a new theory for why South Africa's reconciliation worked and why its lessons remain relevant for other nations emerging from civil conflicts He uses reconciliation as a framework for political transition and seeks to answer three key questions how do the reconciliation processes begin how can political transitions result in inclusive and fair institutional change and to what extent does reconciliation change the way a society functions Looking at South Africa one of reconciliation's most celebrated cases Du Toit shows that the key ingredient to successful reconciliations is acknowledging the centrality of relationships He further develops his own theoretical approach to reconciliation as interdependence the idea that reconciliation is the result of an integrated process of courageous leadership fair and inclusive institutions and social change built toward a mutual goal of prosperity As Du Toit conveys the motivation for reconciliation is the long term well being of one's own community as well as that of enemy groups Without ensuring the conditions in which one's enemy can flourish one's own community is unlikely to prosper sustainably The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America's oldest public schools ECKM2015-16th European Conference on Knowledge Management Maurizio Massaro and Andrea Garlatti, 2015-09-02 These proceedings represent the work of researchers presenting at the 16th European Conference on Knowledge Management ECKM 2015 We are delighted to be hosting ECKM at the University of Udine Italy on the 3-4 September 2015 The conference will be opened with a keynote from Dr Madelyn Blair from Pelerei Inc USA on the topic The Role of KM in Building Resilience On the afternoon of the first day Dr Daniela Santarelli from Lundbeck Italy will deliver a second keynote speech The second day will be opened by Dr John Dumay from Macquarie University Sydney Australia ECKM is an established platform for academics concerned with current research and for those from the wider community involved in Knowledge Management to present their findings and ideas to peers from the KM and associated fields ECKM is also a valuable opportunity for face to face interaction with colleagues from similar areas of interests The conference has a well established history of helping attendees advance their understanding of how people organisations regions and even countries generate and exploit knowledge to achieve a competitive advantage and drive their innovations forward The range of issues and mix of approaches followed will ensure an interesting two days 260 abstracts were initially received for this conference However the academic rigor of ECKM means that after the double blind peer review process there are 102 academic papers 15 PhD research papers 1 Masters research papers and 7 Work in Progress papers published in these Conference Proceedings These papers reflect the continuing interest and diversity in the
