Happy Isles Of Oceania Paddling The Pacific The Paul Theroux:

The Happy Isles of Oceania Paul Theroux, 2006 Beginning in New Zealand and coming to shore in Hawaii the author explores fifty one islands along the way in a collapsible kayak Reimagining the American Pacific Rob Wilson, 2000

Discusses the makings of the American Pacific locality location identity as space and ground of cultural production and the way this region can be linked to Asia and Pacific as well as to American mainland Pacific Forest Judith

Bennett, 2021-10-25 This book addresses the contending views of the uses of Solomon Island forest Ranging from an examination of the interaction between the first settlers and their forest the book goes on to analyse the attitudes of the British administrators planters and missionaries The colonial government sought to protect the resource but neglected to consider the wishes of the forest s inhabitants in planning for its future economic use The independent governments failed to protect the dwindling forest on customary land in the face of accelerating demands from their own people and of Asian based logging companies while non governmental organisations and aid donors have tried to invoke a more conservative regime of forest use Transnational Asia Pacific Shirley Lim, Larry E. Smith, Wimal Dissanayake, 1999 From fiddle tunes to folk ballads from banjos to blues traditional music thrives in the remote mountains and hollers of West Virginia For a quarter century Goldenseal magazine has given its readers intimate access to the lives and music of folk artists from across this pivotal state Now the best of Goldenseal is gathered for the first time in this richly illustrated volume Some of the country s finest folklorists take us through the backwoods and into the homes of such artists as fiddlers Clark Kessinger and U S Senator Robert Byrd recording stars Lynn Davis and Molly O Day dulcimer master Russell Fluharty National Heritage Fellowship recipient Melvin Wine bluesman Nat Reese and banjoist Sylvia O Brien The most complete survey to date of the vibrant strands of this music and its colorful practitioners Mountains of Music delineates a unique culture where music and music making are part of an ancient and treasured heritage The sly humor strong faith clear regional identity and musical convictions of these performers draw the reader into families and communities bound by music from one generation to another For devotees as well as newcomers to this infectious joyous and heartfelt music Mountains of Music captures the strength of tradition and the spontaneous power of living artistry Representing the South Pacific Rod

Edmond, 1997-11-20 This book examines how the South Pacific was represented by explorers missionaries travellers writers and artists between 1767 and 1914 by drawing on history literature art history and anthropology Edmond engages with colonial texts and postcolonial theory criticising both for their failure to acknowledge the historical specificity of colonial discourses and cultural encounters and for continuing to see indigenous cultures in essentially passive or reactive terms The book offers a detailed and grounded reading back of these colonial discourses into the metropolitan centres which gave rise to them while resisting the idea that all representations of other cultures are merely self representations Among its themes are the persistent myth making around the figure of Cook the western obsession with Polynesian sexuality tattooing

cannibalism and leprosy and the Pacific as a theatre for adventure and as a setting for Europe's displaced fears of its own cultural extinction

South Pacific Handbook David Stanley, 1993 An all new edition of the original comprehensive South Pacific guide completely revised and updated with over 85% new material Stanley provides an accurate portrait of all 15 insular territories of Polynesia and Melanesia offering an insider's knowledge spirited commentary and adventurous coverage Contains nearly 200 concise reliable maps glossary and index Moon Publications

Voyages and Beaches Alex Calder, Jonathan Lamb, Bridget Orr, 1999-04-01 What actually happened as Europeans and peoples of the Pacific discovered each other How have their respective senses of the past influenced their understanding of the present And what are the consequences of their meeting In this collection of essays scholars from European Polynesian and Settler backgrounds provide answers to these questions Writing from and between a variety of disciplines history anthropology Maori Studies literary criticism law cultural studies art history Pacific Studies they show how the Pacific reveals a more various and contradictory history than that supposed by such homogenizing metropolitan myths as the introduction of civilization to savage peoples the general ruin of indigenous cultures by an imperial juggernaut or the mimicry of European models by an abject population They examine contact from both sides of beaches throughout Polynesia exposing the many inconsistencies from which Pacific history is made Some of the essays consider the extent to which traditional European ideas about organizing and legitimizing claims to territory and power were invoked and problematized in the South Pacific some consider the violence endemic in such scenes others examine the aesthetic discourses with which early travelers and settlers attempted to make sense of the Pacific in the aftermath of discovery But rather than reiterate the myths and anti myths of conquest these essays show how local differences have made and do make a difference They emphasize the Pacific's capacity to absorb and transform the impact of Europe an impact that has been as notable for its ambivalence and confusion as for its single minded pursuit of hegemony The editors develop these themes in a wide ranging introduction that relates Pacific concerns to a more global set of theoretical and methodological problems including current work in post colonial and subaltern studies

Vampire Films Around the World James Aubrey, 2020-10-23 Vampires are arguably the most popular and most paradoxical of gothic monsters life draining yet passionate feared yet fascinating dead yet immortal Vampire content produces exquisitely suspenseful stories that combined with motion picture filmmaking reveal much about the cultures that enable vampire film production and the audiences they attract This collection of essays is generously illustrated and ranges across sixteen cultures on five continents including the films Let the Right One In What We Do in the Shadows Cronos and We Are the Night among many others Distinctly different kinds of European vampires have originated in Ireland Germany Sweden and Serbia North American vampires are represented by films from Mexico Canada and the USA Middle Eastern locations include Tangier Morocco and a fictional city in Iran South Asia has produced Bollywood vampire films and east Asian vampires are represented by films from Korea China and Japan Some of the most recent vampire movies have come from Australia and New Zealand These essays also look at vampire films through lenses of gender post colonialism camp and otherness as well as the evolution of the vampiric character in cinema worldwide together constituting a mosaic of the cinematic undead

The Pacific Islands and the USA R. G. Crocombe, 1995 The world's most powerful nation and more than a dozen of the world's smallest have been interacting for 200 years Beginning with whaling in the 1700s it has continued through many trades investment education churches media diplomacy and strategic issues As significant as the movement of Americans to the Pacific is that of 150 000 Pacific Islanders to the USA This important book documents the growing interaction with the USA to the pinnacle of involvement in World War II The importance of USA to the Pacific Islands remained high until the end of the 1980s but has declined since then on almost every dimension While USA will remain significant for the Pacific Islands its relative profile will continue to decline Back cover

Cabin Fever Tom Montgomery Fate, 2012-04-17 If Tom Montgomery Fate has not found the secret formula for the deliberate balanced life he is a chief disciple of the search Chicago Tribune Try to imagine Thoreau married with a job three kids and a minivan This is the sensibility serious yet irreverent that suffuses Cabin Fever as the author seeks to apply the hermit philosopher's insights to a busy modern life Tom Montgomery Fate lives in a Chicago suburb where he is a husband father professor and active member of his community He also lives in a cabin built with the help of friends in the Michigan woods where he walks by the river chops wood and reads Thoreau by candlelight Fate seeks a more attentive deliberate way of seeing the world and our place in it not only in the woods but also in the context of our relationships and society In his search for a more deliberate life amid a high tech material world Fate invites readers into an interrogation of their own lives and into a new kind of vision the possibility of enough in a culture of more

survivors found themselves on a seemingly deserted island In Defoe s novel Robinson Crusoe spends twenty eight years on a remote tropical island near Trinidad while in the movie Castaway Tom Hanks survives over four years on a South Pacific island And Jurassic Park kept its dinosaur population confined to an island off the coast of Central America Islands often find themselves at the center of imagined worlds secluded and sometimes mystical locales filled with strange creatures and savage populations The cannibals raptors and smoke monsters that exist on the islands of popular culture aside the more than one million islands and islets on the planet are indeed small geological biological and cultural laboratories From Britain to Japan from the Galapagos to Manhattan this book roams the planet to provide the first global introduction to these waterlocked landforms Longtime island dweller Steven Roger Fischer shows that since time began islands have been one of the primary birthplaces for plants animals and proto humans These eyots of stone and sand whether in ocean lake or river fostered the human race and Fischer recounts how humanity then exploited these remarkable habitats as stepping stones to global dominion He explores island economics warfare and politics and he examines the role they have played in literature art and psychology At the same time he sparks our imagination with visions of islands from Atlantis to Tahiti Treasure Island to Hawaii Ultimately he reveals these isolated mini worlds are a measure of humankind itself An engaging account of the islets that have enriched lured terrified and inspired us Islands shines new light on these cradles of earth and human history

Facing the Pacific Jeffrey A. Geiger, 2007-04-30 The enduring popularity of Polynesia in western literature art and film attests to the pleasures that Pacific islands have over the centuries afforded the consuming gaze of the west connoting solitude release from cares and more recently self renewal away from urbanized modern life Facing the Pacific is the first study to offer a detailed look at the United States intense engagement with the myth of the South Seas just after the First World War when at home a popular vogue for all things Polynesian seemed to echo the expansion of U S imperialist activities abroad Jeffrey Geiger looks at a variety of texts that helped to invent a vision of Polynesia for U S audiences focusing on a group of writers and filmmakers whose mutual fascination with the South Pacific drew them together and would eventually drive some of them apart Key figures discussed in this volume are Frederick O Brien author of the bestseller White Shadows in the South Seas filmmaker Robert Flaherty and his wife Frances Hubbard Flaherty who collaborated on Moana director W S Van Dyke who worked with Robert Flaherty on MGM s adaptation of White Shadows and Expressionist director F W Murnau whose last film Tabu was co directed with Flaherty

Craig, 2010-12-18 The term Polynesia refers to a cultural and geographical area in the Pacific Ocean bound by what is commonly referred to as the Polynesian Triangle which consists of Hawai i in the north New Zealand in the southwest and Easter Island in the southeast Thousands of islands are scattered throughout this area most of which are currently included in one of the modern island states of American Samoa Cook Islands French Polynesia Hawai i New Zealand Samoa Tonga Tokelau Tuvalu and Wallis and Futuna The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of Polynesia greatly expands on the previous editions through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Polynesian history from the earliest times to the present Appendixes of the major islands and atolls within Polynesia the rulers and administrators of the 13 major island states and basic demographic information of those states are also included The New Arcadia Monique Layton, 2015-07-24 SINCE BEING DISCOVERED IN 1767 Tahiti has faced a profound cultural upheaval From the start she has been branded with the irresistible dual myth of the Noble Savage s harmonious Arcadian life and of the vahine s amorous favours freely granted People navigators missionaries whalers slavers and events deadly epidemics atomic testing and now tourism all have contributed over time to creating the modern Tahitian quandary trying to recover an idealized past and losing the benefits of modern life or continuing as a cog in the French administrative system and losing her soul Based on historical records sailors journals Ma ohi epic poetry European paintings folkloric events the film industry and novels by modern Tahitian writers this book follows the passage from Otaheite s paradisaical way of life through the disastrous encounter with European civilization ending with French Polynesia s modern prospects Most remarkable of all is the enduring Ma ohi culture s survival into the twenty first century Impossibility : The Limits of Science and the Science of Limits John D. Barrow, 1998-03-12 Are there some things we can never think or know let alone do In this fascinating book acclaimed author John Barrow reveals the often paradoxical limits on knowledge and achievement and shows that the notion of impossibility has played and continues to play a striking role in our thinking and in the way in which we understand the universe and ourselves What are the true limits of science and human endeavour The end of each century leads to a stocktaking of human achievement and our expectation about the future This new book by John D Barrow looks at what limits there might be to human discovery and what we might find ultimately to be unknowable undoable or unthinkable Weaving together a tapestry of surprises Barrow explores the frontiers of knowledge taking in surrealism impossible figures time travel paradoxes of logic and perspective theological speculations about Beings for whom nothing is impossible all stimulate us to contemplate something more than what is With sufficient time and money at our disposal why should we find anything impossible Barrow explores the limits that may be imposed upon a full understanding of the physical Universe by constraints of technology computes cost and complexity He considers how the nature of the universe s structure prevents us from answering the deepest questions about its beginning its structure and its future And he delves into the deep limits imposed by the nature of knowledge itself which have profound implications for any quest for complete knowledge They take us into the debates over the problems of free will and consciousness G ouml del s famous theorem about our inability to capture the truths of mathematics by rules and axioms is explored to see if it has any implications for science Clearly and engagingly written and using simple explanations this book reveals that impossibility is a deep and powerful notion that any Universe complex enough to contain conscious beings will contain limits on what those beings can know about their Universe that what we cannot know defines reality as surely as what we can know Impossibility is a two edged sword it threatens the completeness of the scientific enterprise yet without it there would be no laws of Nature no science and no scientists In this illuminating well written account of Limits with capital L John D Barrow chronicles and explains the limits of science as a reality generation mechanism and why it matters So for about as good an account as you re going to get of where science stops read this book It won t tell you any final answer But the journey is far more interesting and important than the destination Nature

Fragile Paradise Mansel G. Blackford,2001 As roads and sewers now have reached their limits and escalating property values have ousted kamaainas the growth of the visitor industry has forced the people of Maui to make difficult choices about the future development of their island BOOK JACKET Global/Local Rob Wilson,Wimal Dissanayake,1996-05-27 This groundbreaking collection focuses on what may be for cultural studies the most intriguing aspect of contemporary globalization the ways in which the postnational restructuring of the world in an era of transnational capitalism has altered how we must think about cultural production Mapping a new world space that is simultaneously more globalized and localized than before these essays examine the dynamic between the movement of capital images and technologies without regard to national borders and the tendency toward fragmentation of the world into increasingly contentious enclaves of difference ethnicity and resistance Ranging across issues involving film literature and theory as well as history politics economics sociology and anthropology these deeply interdisciplinary essays explore the interwoven forces of globalism and localism in a variety of cultural settings with a particular emphasis on the Asia Pacific region Powerful readings of the new image culture transnational film genre and the politics of spectacle are offered as is a critique of globalization as the latest guise of colonization Articles that unravel the complex links between the global and local in terms of the unfolding narrative of capital are joined by work that illuminates phenomena as diverse as yellow cab interracial sex in Japan machinic desire in Robocop movies and the Pacific Rim city An interview with Fredric Jameson by Paik Nak Chung on globalization and Pacific Rim responses is also featured as is a critical afterword by Paul Bov Positioned at the crossroads of an altered global terrain this volume the first of its kind analyzes the evolving transnational imaginary the full scope of contemporary cultural production by which national identities of political allegiance and economic regulation are being undone and in which imagined communities are being reshaped at both the global and local levels of everyday existence
