Alison Calhoun

Histoire De La Renaissance:

Lives of Seventy of the Most Eminent Painters, Sculptors and Architects Giorgio Vasari, 1896 Gender, Kabbalah, and the Reformation Yvonne Petry, 2004-01-01 This study examines the thought of Guillaume Postel 1510 1581 a French religious thinker who relied on Jewish Kabbalah and its mystical understanding of gender to argue that a female messiah had arrived who would heal the political and religious conflicts of sixteenth century Europe Papers of the American Society of Church History, 1891 Music as Concept and Practice in the Late Middle Ages Reinhard Strohm, Bonnie J. Blackburn, 2001 Music as Concept and Practice in the Late Middle Ages is an entirely new addition to the New Oxford History of Music series rather than a revision of the volume's predecessor published in 1960 It takes account not only of the developments in late medieval music scholarship during the latter decades of the twentieth century but also of the experience gained through significant changes in the performance practice of the late medieval repertory witnessed during this period All the chapters include areas of discussion whose coverage in the series hitherto has been either wholly lacking or at best marginal Muslim and Jewish musical traditions of the Middle Ages late medieval office chant medieval dance music musical instruments in society music in Central and Eastern Europe music theory of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries music and early Renaissance humanism The first chapter and the last three present the conceptualization of music in speculative theory philosophy compositional and didactic practice and musical historiography Four chapters and part of the first illustrate important musical repertories and genres as they were developed within diverse societies The eight authors all of them with a long standing interest in their respective subjects have created through their collaboration a blend of mature scholarship and original investigation The volume's novelty of approach and content is complemented by a firm anchorage in the specialist literature and documentary source material Today no single view of the Middle Ages can be acceptable to the musician or to the historian The present volume which addresses itself to both provides solid information on formerly marginal themes and advocates further exploration of the other Middle Ages Papers of the American Society of Church History American Society of Church History, 1891 Includes annual reports Montaigne and the Lives of the Philosophers Alison Calhoun, 2014-12-18 In his Essais Montaigne stresses that his theoretical interest in philosophy goes hand in hand with its practicality In fact he makes it clear that there is little reason to live our lives according to doctrine without proof that others have successfully done so Understanding Montaigne's philosophical thought therefore means not only studying the philosophies of the great thinkers but also the characters and ways of life of the philosophers themselves The focus of Montaigne and the Lives of the Philosophers Life Writing and Transversality in the Essais is how Montaigne assembled the lives of the philosophers on the pages of his Essais in order to grapple with two fundamental aims of his project first to transform the teaching of moral philosophy and next to experiment with a transverse construction of his self Both of these objectives grew out of a dialogue with the structure and content in the life writing of Plutarch and Diogenes

Laertius authors whose books were bestsellers during the essayist's lifetime Catalogue of the Library of the Peabody Institute of the City of Baltimore, 1883 Storytelling in Sixteenth-Century France Emily E. Thompson, 2022-01-14

Storytelling in Sixteenth Century France is an innovative interdisciplinary examination of parallels between the early modern era and the world in which we live today Readers are invited to look to the past to see how then as now people turned to storytelling to integrate and adapt to rapid social change to reinforce or restructure community to sell new ideas and to refashion the past This collection explores different modalities of storytelling in sixteenth century France and emphasizes shared techniques and themes rather than attempting to define narrow kinds of narrative categories Through studies of storytelling in tapestries stone and music as well as distinct genres of historical professional and literary writing addressing both erudite and more common readers the contributors to this collection evoke a society in transition wherein traditional techniques and materials were manipulated to express new realities Published by the University of Delaware Press

Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Catalogue of the Library of the Peabody Institute of the City of Baltimore N. H. Morison, 1889 Doing Humanities in Nineteenth-Century Germany, 2019-12-09

Doing Humanities in Nineteenth Century Germany edited by Efraim Podoksik is a collaborative project by leading scholars in German studies that examines the practices of theorising and researching in the humanities as pursued by German thinkers and scholars during the long nineteenth century and the relevance of those practices for the humanities today Each chapter focuses on a particular branch of the humanities such as philosophy history classical philology theology or history of art The volume both offers a broad overview of the history of German humanities and examines an array of particular cases that illustrate their inner dilemmas ranging from Ranke's engagement with the world of poetry to Max Weber's appropriation of the notion of causality Subject Index of the Modern Works Added to the Library of the British Museum in the Years 1881-1900 British Museum.
