Improving The Textbook Selection Process:

Improving the Textbook Selection Process M. Jean Young, Charles M. Reigeluth, 1988 Improving the Textbook Selection Process M. Jean Young, Charles M. Reigeluth, 1988 This booklet addresses the question of what is wrong with textbooks and then shows how textbooks can be improved through the selection process A conceptual scheme is proposed as the basis of the selection process Specific attributes and features to look for when selecting textbooks based on this conceptual scheme are discussed Five categories of selection criteria are discussed 1 needs analysis 2 subject matter content 3 social content 4 readability and 5 instructional design A 35 item bibliography is included SI Improving the textbook selection process : case studies of the textbook adoption guidelines project Janice A. Dole, Theresa Rogers, Jean Osborn, 1989 Resources in Education ,1994 An Overview of Suggested Procedures for Improving Methods of Textbook Selection University of the State of New York. Bureau of Elementary Curriculum Development, 1960 Learning From Textbooks Bruce K. Britton, Arthur Woodward, Marilyn Binkley, 2012-11-12 It is surprising that there is so little research on textbooks given their centrality to teaching and learning in elementary and secondary schools Textbooks have become a focus of political and cultural controversy advocating a multicultural curriculum that has sparked some vigorous protests Research is absent in this debate therefore questions of legitimate knowledge the role of textbooks textbook design policy selection issues and economic issues concerning the marketplace are not part of the current debate Without insights of research on considerate text mentioning illustrations and so forth the current controversy will result in publishers responding to demands for more content not less thus textbooks will become compendia of information that on the surface satisfy everyone This volume demonstrates how research on important issues relative to textbook design can advance our knowledge about what makes textbooks effective learning tools and thus inform policymakers publishers and those involved in textbook selection Representing pure and applied approaches researchers present papers on the quality of writing the role of questions the role of pictures and illustrations and the role of auxiliary materials in the design of effective textbooks The chapters provide insight into research and its application to textbook design and improvement stimulating others to follow this lead Implementing Academic Standards James B. Hunt, 1999-06 The National Education Goals NEG Panel has assembled information regarding standards implementation especially in the areas of math and science The papers in this volume describe how states have recently implemented their education standards how textbooks and teaching could help students reach standards and the resources and advice available from the professional organizations that developed national standards in math and science Sections include current state policy on standards special issues relating to teachers and textbooks special issues relating to math and science and NEG Panel policy related to standards Textbooks in School and Society Arthur Woodward, David L. Elliot, Kathleen Carter Nagel, 2013-08-21 Textbooks have been standard schoolroom fixtures for as long as most living citizens of this country can remember Many turn of the century students were introduced to reading through the moralistic McGuffey Readers and struggled through the rather drab and colorless pages of volumes on history geography and civics In contrast today s textbooks contain not only narrative content accompanied by colorful photographs and graphics but also section and chapter exercises that are extended through the use of worksheets and other materials Moreover the textbook and its related student materials are packaged together with teacher s editions and tests in grade level sets that amount to content area programs rather than mere texts Textbooks in American Society Philip G. Altbach,Gail P. Kelly,Hugh G. Petrie,Lois Weis,1991-09-27 In recent years textbooks have been widely criticized for low standards lack of imaginativeness and insensitivity to racial and gender issues Increasingly they are cited as another weak link in American public education This book goes beyond the headlines to examine how textbooks are produced how they are selected and what pressures are placed on textbook authors and publishers The book focuses on the relationship of the textbook to the educational system and includes important issues such as the politics of textbook policy the determinants of textbook content the role of textbooks in educational reform and the process of selection at the state level The authors offer current research on textbook policy including perspectives from those directly involved with textbooks from several thoughtful analyses by textbook editors and publishers to the views of California s Superintendent of Public Instruction

Groth,2012-08-10 A journey into the vibrant and intriguing world of mathematics education Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 12 explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6 12 The author shows secondary mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher in the classroom by constantly experimenting with methods for developing students mathematical thinking and then connecting this research to practices that enhance students understanding of the material The chapters in Part I introduce secondary teachers to the field of mathematics education with cross cutting issues that apply to teaching and learning in all mathematics content areas The chapters in Part II are devoted to specific mathematics content strands and describe how students think about mathematical concepts The goal of the text is to have secondary math teachers gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge their students bring to grade 6 12 classrooms and how students thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies Improving the Quality of Primary Education in Latin America and the Caribbean Laurence Wolff, Ernesto Schiefelbein, Jorge Valenzuela, 1994 World Bank Discussion Paper No 257 Countries in the Latin America and the Caribbean region LAC have invested heavily in primary education over the past 10 years International studies of achievement however show that LAC countries still perfo
