Abstract: This paper presents a policy analysis of the effects of a new policy on the health care system. The study was carried out using a mixed methods approach. The data were collected from a survey of 100 health care providers and 200 patients. The results of the survey showed that the new policy had a positive impact on the health care system. The study also found that there were some challenges associated with the implementation of the new policy. The authors conclude that the new policy is a positive step towards improving the health care system, but more work needs to be done to address the challenges identified.
