

A Midsummer Night's Dream

Comparing A Midsummer Night's Dream and Romeo and Juliet

This task allows you to write about two plays. You could write at great length but this is not necessary, or even sensible. Do not try to retell the plot of either play as a narrative (story). Do look at how the play works on stage: use of props, costume and physical actions - either as suggested in the text, or as these appeared in any versions you have seen in performance. You should consider effects of language and imagery, in context. Below are some ideas, which could form the outline of a response to the plays. You may find these helpful; ignore those that aren't.

When you write (or speak) about the play, you must refer to evidence: either quote dialogue, or explain what is happening in terms of action. Ideally, you should give Act and Scene (Roman [e.g. III, ii] or Arabic [e.g. 3.2] numbers) and line numbers (not page numbers - do you know why?). Always comment on, or explain the point of, what you quote. Do not write the verb quote at any point in your work, unless it is to explain that one character in the play quotes another! In formal written English, quote is a verb and quotation is the corresponding noun. Quote as a noun is fine in speech, especially when referring to an estimate for work to be done ('builder's quote').

The two plays were first performed at around the same time in the 1590s. They have obvious similarities of plot and theme, but clearly different structure and outcome. Briefly (no more than half a page) summarise these similarities and differences.

'The course of true love never did run smooth'

How far are Lysander's words proved true by the (total) events in either play? Are they a more suitable motto for one than the other? Why?

Puck and Oberon versus Friar Laurence and the Nurse

In A Midsummer Night's Dream Puck and Oberon watch over the young lovers (and Bottom) and save them from coming to any harm. Explain how they are able to do this, through their magical powers. In Romeo and Juliet the Friar and the Nurse try to help the tragic lovers but fail to save them. Compare their efforts to help Romeo and Juliet with the efforts of Puck and Oberon. How and why are the fairies successful where human helpers fail? Compare the Friar's use of magical or seeming magical herbs with Oberon's use of magical plants (Cupid's flower and Dian's bud).

'Tis almost fairy time'

In both plays characters refer to fairies. The longest speech of Romeo and Juliet (spoken by Mercutio) is a description of Queen Mab, the 'fairies' midwife', but he admits to making it up. In A Midsummer Night's Dream Theseus refers jokingly to 'fairy time', but may well not believe in fairies any more than Romeo and

Adopting the Beat of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within Midsummer Night Dream Study Guide Active Answers

In a world used by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic splendor and emotional symphony created by the written word often diminish in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the persistent noise and disturbances that permeate our lives. But, nestled within the pages of Midsummer Night Dream Study Guide Active Answers a wonderful literary treasure full of natural thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant musician of language, that charming masterpiece conducts readers on a mental journey, skillfully unraveling the hidden melodies and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching examination, we shall examine the book is central harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing type, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
