

No matter the weather,
No matter the pain,
The kick always starts the game,
The team runs it back as far as they can
And the opposing team must defend
Run or pass you don't want to finish last.
Four fifteen minute quarter to decide the winner.
Practice is the key to a successful team
Playoffs are where they want to be.
The loser goes home empty handed
And the winner moves on.
With the Super Bowl in view
The lucky few will take home all the glory.
And that's the end of my story.

When asked by the school inspector what he thought of poetry an eleven year old replied that it's all la dida and daffodils isn't it In his primary school the boy had come across very little poetry apart from nursery rhymes snatches of rhyming verse and a few comic pieces and nonsense poems Poetry to him was something arcane not really related to his own life He had studied no powerful challenging contemplative arresting quirky poems and had written very few poems himself His teacher admitted that he was no English specialist had received few ideas at college on the teaching of poetry and didn't really know where to start As children progress through the primary school they need to be exposed to a rich diet of poetry and encouraged to read perform and write it themselves Providing a varied and stimulating environment is essential if it is to flourish In addition children need specific guidance and ideas to start them off writing their own poems This book written by a former teacher and school inspector and popular and widely published children's poet offers an accessible practical and structured programme for the teaching of this sometimes neglected aspect of the English curriculum
