Support Not Surveillance: How to solve the teacher retention crisis Mary Boustead, 2022-04-08 Why are so many teachers leaving the profession increasingly early in their careers What harm is being done to pupils' educational prospects by persistent teacher shortages Why are teachers held uniquely responsible for the effects of poverty on children's progress and attainment What are the unintended consequences of rushed government education policy making And what can be done about all of the above Supported by the latest international and national evidence Support Not Surveillance seeks to address these important questions Laying bare how the inadequacy of Westminster policies is compounded by an unfair Ofsted inspection regime Dr Mary Boustead draws on her years of expertise and access to decision makers to expose the gap between ministerial rhetoric and the daily reality encountered by teachers in their classrooms across England Ending on a set of proposals to move beyond the seemingly perennial crisis in teacher recruitment and retention Support Not Surveillance is an unflinching call to end the failed experiment of government interventionism in classrooms

Inspiring Primary Learners Roger McDonald, Poppy Gibson, 2021-02-25 Inspiring Primary Learners offers trainee and qualified teachers high quality case studies of outstanding practice in contemporary classrooms across the country Expert authors unravel and reveal the theory and evidence that underpins lessons helping you make connections with your own practice and understand what excellent looks like within each context and how it is achieved Illustrated throughout with interviews, photos and examples of children's work it covers a range of primary subjects and key topics including creating displays outdoor learning and developing a reading for pleasure culture The voice of the practitioner is evident throughout as teachers share their own experience difficulties and solutions to ensure that children are inspired by their learning Written in two parts the first exemplifies examples of practice for each National Curriculum subject whilst the second focuses on the wider curriculum and explores issues pertinent to the primary classroom highlighting important discussions on topics such as Reading for pleasure Writing for pleasure Creating a dynamic and responsive curriculum Creating inspiring displays Outdoor learning Pedagogy for imagination Relationships and Sex Education This key text shows how even within the contested space of education practitioners can inspire their primary learners through teaching with passion and purpose for the empowerment of the children in their class For all new teachers it provides advice and ideas for effective and engaging learning experiences across the curriculum

Databusting for Schools Richard Selfridge, 2018-06-18 In the increasingly data swamped world of education data literacy is no longer a desirable skill it is essential Databusting for Schools is part guide through the complexities uses and limitations of data and part challenge to those who too readily make assumptions and draw conclusions This is an important book James Pembroke independent data analyst Data rules schools and ignorance is far from bliss From assessment results to questioning educational claims there is a growing need to understand the numbers used in education Education data blogger and teacher Richard Selfridge aka Jack Marwood unravels the complexities of dealing with educational data and explains statistics in an understandable everyday way relevant to your classroom and your school He will take you through all you need to know about data and statistics in education including Where does education data come from The what why and how of numbers Understanding different types of graphs and how to use them How to play around with data to see the bigger picture How to interpret data does one thing really lead to another Using data to inform school policy A must read for all teachers school leaders data managers school governors and anyone in education who has ever looked at statistical data and broken out into a cold sweat Richard Selfridge is a primary school teacher and writer on education He is author of the popular datablog Icing on the Cake and tweets under the sometime pseudonym Jack_Marwood

Assessment Policy Reform Tina Isaacs, Iasonas Lamprianou, 2020-05-21 This book highlights the impact of policy and politics on assessment across the globe With contributions from England the Irish Republic Northern Ireland Norway Sweden Switzerland and Wales it explores state led assessment policies and practices that have been the subject of much debate We are experiencing a shift from using assessments especially national tests as measurement instruments designed to produce information to a reliance on tests to influence policy and instruction Once tests become high stakes for students teachers and schools even those that might have been reasonable monitors of educational success can lose dependability and credibility However not all countries assessment policies follow the same model and the contributors explore and analyse a range of different national and supra national assessment policy approaches and perspectives The chapters identify the impetus behind changing assessment policies and practices and analyse ways forward and innovative approaches Readers can draw their own conclusions about which model s can provide the best outcomes for learners surely the most important part of the equation This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education Principles Policy Practice The Birmingham Book Colin Diamond CBE,2022-07-11 The Trojan Horse affair sent shock waves across England s education system in 2014 The affair centred around an anonymous letter that contained instructions on how to take over schools with a majority Muslim population by influencing their governing bodies and undermining head teachers The authenticity of the letter remains hotly disputed yet its publication generated huge turbulence not only in Birmingham s schools and communities but also in both Parliament and the national news The book offers fresh perspectives based on unique access to information from within the city written by respected educationalists who have worked successfully in Birmingham for many years both during the Trojan Horse era and since It explains what led to the publication of the letter its profound consequences for education in Birmingham and how it influenced events in the city since Crucially the book also opens up an informed discussion around the issues raised during Trojan Horse such as delivering a well rounded curriculum suitable for a diverse school community developing working partnerships in the local area and boosting the attainment and aspirations of children from disadvantaged backgrounds Colin shares case studies of school improvement in local and national MATs in tough multicultural urban environments and how schools worked to develop pupils social capital The Birmingham Book reveals how the Trojan Horse affair was handled by the Department for Education as their academies and free schools policies underwent their first major stress tests Furthermore the book provides an up to date appraisal of the interrelationship between education in England s schools and the cultural and religious practice of the local communities the schools serve and of the underachievement levels of the different ethnic groups in Birmingham Suitable for teachers school leaders governors and policymakers Making Schools Better for Disadvantaged Students Stephen Gorard,Beng Huat See,Nadia Siddiqui,2022-11-25 2023 BERA Educational Research Book of the Year Around the world governments charities and other bodies are concerned with improving education especially for the lowest attaining and most disadvantaged students Making Schools Better for Disadvantaged Students presents detailed research into how poverty affects student segregation and underachievement in schools It contains the first ever large scale evaluation of how funding can best be used to lower the poverty attainment gap for disadvantaged students Drawing on a wealth of empirical research from England India and Pakistan as well as worldwide reviews of relevant studies the book presents high quality evidence on the impact of funding policy initiatives such as the Pupil Premium funding in England and the many variations of similar schemes worldwide It analyses education measures which have been put in place and discusses ways in which these can be used efficiently and fairly to allocate funding to students who are persistently at risk of underachievement The book is unique in synthesising many forms of evidence from around the world and finding a definition of educational disadvantage that can be used fairly across different contexts Offering significant implications for ways to improve educational outcomes for disadvantaged students the book will be essential reading for students of education policy sociology of education and educational practices and all researchers school leaders and policy makers working in this area

The Linguistic Challenge of the Transition to Secondary School Alice Deignan,Duygu Candarli,Florence Oxley,2022-12-30 This book provides a unique analysis and description of the linguistic challenges faced by school students as they move from primary to secondary school a major transition which some students struggle with emotionally and academically The study draws on a bespoke corpus of 2.5 million words of written materials and transcribed classroom recordings provided by the project's partner schools combines quantitative and qualitative approaches to the corpus data to explore linguistic variation across school levels registers and subjects describes the procedures of corpus compilation and analysis of written and spoken academic language showing how modern corpus tools can be applied to this far reaching social and educational issue uncovers differences and similarities between the academic language that school children are exposed to at primary and secondary school contrasting this against the backdrop of the non academic language that they encounter outside school This book is important reading for advanced students and researchers in corpus linguistics applied linguistics and teacher education It carries implications for policymakers and schools looking to support students at this critical point in their schooling The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Other People's Children: What happens to those in the bottom 50% academically? Barnaby Lenon,2018-04-30 In 2017 Barnaby Lenon previously the head master of Harrow School wrote a best selling book about high achieving state schools in England Much Promise Later that year he went on a tour of Further Education colleges and started to research the fortunes of those who do less well at school In Other People's Children he writes about the state of vocational education in England and the implications of his findings for a post Brexit economy

Primary Teaching Catherine Carden,2022-06-08 The second edition of this core text from Learning Matters asks What is teaching Does curriculum really matter Does behaviour need managing What is a learning environment today Does my classroom reflect the identities of all of my learners How can I bring the theme of sustainability to my teaching Discussing these and many more it covers the contents of professional studies modules and goes beyond to support trainees on placements and in their learning on the course Five new chapters are added for this edition discussing themes of sustainability teacher self care diversity in the curriculum sex and relationships education and our new understanding of learning environments Learning features throughout have been designed to help students develop their understanding broaden their perspectives think more critically and apply theory to practice These include Case Studies to apply learning to real life school contexts Key Readings to encourage wider reading broaden perspectives and offer practical ideas for the classroom Key Theory features introduce and summarise big ideas theories and research Critical Questions direct reflection help students engage with what their reading and encourage critical responses Classroom Links

Theories of Learning Debra McGregor, 2025-04-26 To be a successful teacher or student of education it is crucial to acknowledge the learning process This book explains major learning theories how they have developed what beliefs and evidence they have been based upon and what they mean for teachers practice Key areas considered include How different theories including behaviourism constructivism cognitivism and social culturalism offer alternate perspectives about learning Detailed case studies in a range of school contexts show how theoretical considerations play out in real situations How a deeper understanding of learning theory can enhance your professional teacher knowledge and practice The book also includes a range of practical tasks and questions for consideration to encourage deeper reflection about teaching and learning processes This is essential reading for anyone training to teach in primary and secondary education Education Studies students and teachers seeking to refresh their knowledge and understanding of different perspectives of learning Debra McGregor is Professor in Education at Oxford Brookes University

Policy, Belief and Practice in the Secondary English Classroom Bethan Marshall, Simon Gibbons, Louise Hayward, Ernest Spencer, 2018-11-01 Studies of comparative classroom practice in the teaching of secondary English are limited especially when it comes to exploration of the day to day practice of English teachers in the secondary classroom This book presents a case study analysis of secondary classroom practice in three countries Canada England and Scotland Each country has had different degrees of state involvement within the secondary English curriculum over the last twenty years England has had the highest degree of state involvement in that it has had several statutory national curricula and a variety of assessment regimes Scotland has had a non statutory curriculum and no national tests and Canada has had no national curriculum at all with education being determined at province level and each province varying its policies The research adopts a case study approach involving both classroom observation and interviews with teachers Through this the authors explore the impact of state involvement on the reality of what happens in secondary English classrooms The book invites readers to consider the applicability of the findings to their own contexts to examine their own practice in the light of this and to consider the nature of the relationships between policy personal belief and practice in the teaching of English
