Whenever you find a good idea or remember something you want to write, you can just jot it down." Demonstrate getting an idea for a story from a tiny event and jotting it down to develop later "So if you're out and you come up with a great idea for a story, write it down for later! Let's practice a little right now. Let's take a little trip in our minds through our day so far and see if a little detail sparks a story for us." Think aloud about your day so far and find a little detail "I'll go first. Oh I know! Earlier I looked out in the hallway because I heard music playing and it was distracting our class. Remember? But I was not going to write all of those words down. I'm just going to write a couple to hold on to that idea." Examine and find what a few options to write down are. Open your topic notebook and write a few words down quickly in front of the children. Hold it up for them to see. "Did you see that? Did you see how I jotted just a quick, short reminder? But what I wrote still remind me about the story that I want to write." |

Then jot it down to write about later. "Now its time for you to practice. Do you have an idea for a future story? Think across your day so far and jot some ideas down." Give students a minute of silence to start jotting. Instructors can jot that a student wrote "Now writers, when we write our whole story well we do it in these notebooks?" (Yes) Right, this is just for our tiny topic.
