How to Be Disabled in a Pandemic Mara Mills, Harris Kornstein, Faye Ginsburg, Rayna Rapp, 2025-02-25 A chronicle of ableism and disability activism in New York City during the COVID-19 pandemic, How to Be Disabled in a Pandemic documents the pivotal experiences of disabled people living in an early epicenter of COVID-19, New York City. Among those hardest hit by the pandemic, disability communities across the five boroughs have been disproportionately impacted by city and national policies, work, and housing conditions, stigma, racism, and violence, as much as by the virus itself. Disabled and chronically ill activists have protested plans for medical rationing and refuted the eugenic logic of mainstream politicians and journalists who reassure audiences that only older people and those with disabilities continue to die from COVID-19. At the same time, as exemplified by the viral hashtag DisabledPeopleToldYou, disability expertise has become widely recognized in practices such as accessible remote work, education, quarantine, and distributed networks of support and mutual aid. This edited volume charts the legacies of this mass disabling event for uncertain viral futures, exploring the dialectic between disproportionate risk and the creativity of a disability justice response. How to Be Disabled in a Pandemic includes contributions by wide-ranging disability scholars, writers, and activists whose research and lived experiences chronicle the pandemic's impacts in prisons, migrant detention centers, Chinatown, senior centers, hospitals in Queens and the Bronx, subways, schools, housing shelters, social media, and other locations of public and private life. By focusing on New York City over the course of three years, the book reveals key themes of the pandemic, including hierarchies of disability vulnerability.

the deployment of disability as a tool of population management and innovative crip pandemic cultural production How to Be Disabled in a Pandemic honors those lost as well as those who survived by calling for just policies and caring infrastructures not only in times of crisis but for the long haul
