QUESTION 3

- 3.1 Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Peat lands are special wetlands that play a very important role in ecology. A peat land, of approximately 6 000 years old, near Mafeking is almost destroyed because of excessive extraction of water from the nearby Molopo river. The water is extracted for human consumption.

Peat lands like the one near Mafeking is exceptional and play an important role in storing water as well as preventing climate changes.

Dr Phil-Louis Grundling said that carbon that is 'held' or 'stored' by peat lands combats climate change because it decreases the amount of carbon in the atmosphere.

Peat lands trap about one third of the world's carbon. Approximately 50% of wetlands worldwide are peat lands. However in South Africa about 10% of the wetlands are peat lands.

Grundling explained that peat lands can hold about 1 000 times its own mass in water. This replenishes the water table and is the source that keeps streams flowing. The "sponge effect" of the peat also makes it possible to store water that is then released during dry seasons.

Dr Grundling said that it might be too late to restore the peat land near Mafeking but it might be possible to restore some parts of it if more water is supplied to this peat land.

The result of this destruction is depletion of the water table. The habitat of numerous fish and frog species that lived in this peat land was also destroyed.

From: Beeld, 24 September 2016.

- 3.1.1 Give TWO other reasons (not mentioned in the passage) that can lead to the destruction of wetlands. (2)
- 3.1.2 Discuss reasons from the passage regarding the importance of these specific wetlands for the environment. (4)
- 3.1.3 Suggest a way in which this peat land near Mafeking can be restored. (2)

Neuroinflammation and Behaviour Luba Sominsky, Adam K. Walker, Deborah M. Hodgson, 2015-07-21 The brain and immune system are involved in an intricate network of bidirectional communication. This relationship is vital for optimal physiological and psychological development and functioning but can also result in unwanted outcomes. In particular, this interaction plays an important role in cognition, mood, and behaviour. Neuroinflammation is known to contribute to neurological and affective disorders, including impaired learning and memory, depressive anxiety, and schizoaffective symptoms, as well as pain. The development of these conditions often occurs on the backdrop of pre-existing physical illnesses, which give rise to increased activation of the immune system, such as cancer, obesity, infection, and autoimmune disorders. Similarly, psychological states can alter regulation of the immune system. This has been most extensively studied in the context of stress and immune function. Understanding the underlying mechanisms that lead to the onset of inflammation-induced neuropathology and stress-induced immune suppression will contribute to the development of novel and effective treatment strategies for both the disease and its neurological side effects. In this research topic, we explored the relationship between the immune system and the brain throughout life. We include both original research and review papers from animal, clinical, and molecular perspectives.

Innovate to Dominate Tai Ming Cheung, 2022-08-15 In Innovate to Dominate, Tai Ming Cheung offers insight into why, how, and whether China will overtake the United States to become the world's preeminent technological and security power. This examination of the means and ends of China's quest for techno-security supremacy is required reading for anyone looking for clues as to the long-term direction of the global order. The techno-security domain, Cheung argues, is where national security, innovation, and economic development converge, and it has become the center of power and prosperity in the twenty-first century. China's paramount leader, Xi Jinping, recognizes that effectively harnessing the complex interactions among security, innovation, and development is essential in enabling China to compete for global dominance. Cheung offers a richly detailed account of how China is building a potent techno-security state. In Innovate to Dominate, he takes readers from the strategic vision guiding this transformation to the nuts and bolts of policy implementation. The state-led, top-down mobilizational model that China is pursuing has been a winning formula so far, but the sternest test is ahead as China begins to compete head-to-head with the United States and aims to surpass its archrival by mid-century, if not sooner. Innovate to Dominate is a timely and analytically rigorous examination of the key strategies guiding China's transformation of its capabilities in the national, technological, military, and security spheres, and how this is taking place. Cheung authoritatively addresses the burning questions being asked in capitals around the world: Can China become the dominant global techno-security power? And if so, when?

life cycle and risk assessment is a tool to evaluate potential hazards to human health and the environment introduced by pollutant emissions The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals call for among other objectives responsible consumption and production by decoupling environmental resource use and environmental impacts from economic growth and human well being Life cycle assessment and risk assessment are both analytical system approaches that allow scientists and other decision makers to address these issues and objectives according to the current understanding of environmental mechanisms This book is the first attempt to illustrate the existing interfaces between life cycle assessment and risk assessment and to indicate options for further integration of both tools The second edition Focuses on sustainability Considers new developments in life cycle assessment and environmental risk assessment over the last ten years at the international level Introduces broader concepts and discussions on integrative versus the complementary use of life cycle and risk assessments Extends the scope of integrated life cycle and risk assessments to critical raw materials Includes more case studies and discusses engineered nanomaterials Featuring contributions from leading experts Integrated Life Cycle and Risk Assessment for Industrial Processes and Products is a great reference for graduate students and professionals in environmental management and intends to catalyze communication between life cycle assessment and risk assessment experts and scientists in academia industry and governmental agencies The practical format of the book illustrated with flowcharts examples exercises and concrete applications makes it a useful manual for analyzing situations and making decisions

Fanon, Frantz, and the Violence of Resistance Zahi Zalloua, 2025-06-26 In a novel pairing of anti colonial theorist Frantz Fanon with Marxist Lacanian philosopher Slavoj Žižek Zahi Zalloua explores the ways both thinkers expose the violence of political structures This inventive exploration advances an anti racist critique describing how ontology operates in a racial matrix to produce some human bodies that count and others deemed not quite or non human that do not For Fanon and Žižek the violence of ontology must be met with another form of violence a revolutionary violence that delegitimizes the logic of the symbolic order and troubles its collective fantasies Whereas Fanon begins his challenge to ontology by exposing its historical linkages to Europe's destructive imperialist procedures before proceeding to stretch Marxism along with psychoanalysis to account for the crushing neo colonial situation Žižek premises his work on the refusal to accept the totality of ontology Because of these different points of intervention Fanon and Žižek together offer a powerful and multifaceted assessment of the liberal anti racist paradigm whose propensity for identity politics and aversion to class struggle silence the cry of the dispossessed and foreclose radical change Avoiding contemporary separatist temptations decoloniality and Afropessimism and breaking with a non violent sentimentalist futurology that announces more of the same Fanon and Žižek point in a different direction one that eschews identitarian thought in favor of a collective struggle for freedom and equality

Syrian Refugee Children in the Middle East and Europe Michelle Pace, Somdeep Sen, 2018-04-09 Since the start of the conflict in Syria in 2011 Syrian refugee children have withstood violence uncertainty fear trauma and loss This book follows their journeys by bringing together scholars and practitioners to reflect on how to make their situation better and to get this knowledge to as many front liners across European and neighbouring countries in the Middle East as possible The book is premised on the underlying conception of refugee children as not merely a vulnerable contingent of the displaced Syrian population but one that possesses a certain agency for change and progress In this vein the various contributions aim to not just de securitize the conversation on migration that frequently centres on the presumed insecurity that refugees personify They also de securitize the figure and image of the refugee Through the stories of the youngest and most vulnerable they demonstrate that refugee children are not mere opaque figures on who we project our insecurities Instead they embody potentials and opportunities for progress that we need to nurture as young refugees find themselves compelled to both negotiate the practical realities of a life in exile and situate themselves in changing and unfamiliar sociocultural contexts Drawing on extensive field research this edited volume points in the direction of a new rights based framework which will safeguard the future of these children and their well being Offering a comparative lens between approaches to tackling refugees in the Middle East and Europe this book will appeal to students and scholars of refugees and migration studies human rights as well as anyone with an interest in the Middle East or Europe CONVASH 2019 Kundharu Saddhono ,Deny Tri Ardianto,Krichkanok Sudasna,Hasnul Jamal B Saidon,Khwanrat Chinda,Ahamad Tarmizi bin Azizan,2020-08-31 The 1st Conference of Visual Art Design and Social Humanities CONVASH 2019 is a seminar in the fields of art design and humanities held on November 2 2019 by the Faculty of Fine Arts and Design FSRD Universitas Sebelas Maret in Surakarta Indonesia Since its establishment as a Faculty 5 years ago The Faculty of Fine Arts and Designs has conducted 4 international conferences The 1st CONVASH 2019 is our international conference new brand and we have a commitment to hold CONVASH annually Conference of Visual Art Design and Social Humanities CONVASH 2019 is a tangible manifestation of FSRD s efforts to contribute to science and improve publication quality on the international level This event is expected to bring about collaboration scientific transfer and publications that can contribute to the scientific fields of arts design and humanities The conference aims to facilitate research presentations and knowledge exchange in art design technology and social humanities as well as create academic networks among students lecturers and researchers in the related fields Further this conference will bring opportunities to learn together to develop quality research in various fields expand the collaboration networks among universities and industries and become a forum to disseminate research and knowledge to a wider audience The committee received more than 130 papers from the participants and based on the results of the reviews only 96 papers were declared qualified to be presented at the seminar and subsequently published in the proceedings of CONVASH 2019 Finally the committee congratulates and expresses gratitude to the selected participants for the participation and paper publication in the proceeding of CONVASH 2019 The committee would also like to thank all parties who have supported and actively participated for the success of this event Hopefully this Proceeding can be used as a
