The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 35 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country

The Linguistic Challenge of the Transition to Secondary School Alice Deignan, Duygu Candarli, Florence Oxley, 2022-12-30 This book provides a unique analysis and description of the linguistic challenges faced by school students as they move from primary to secondary school a major transition which some students struggle with emotionally and academically The study draws on a bespoke corpus of 25 million words of written materials and transcribed classroom recordings provided by the project's partner schools combines quantitative and qualitative approaches to the corpus data to explore linguistic variation across school levels registers and subjects describes the procedures of corpus compilation and analysis of written and spoken academic language showing how modern corpus tools can be applied to this far reaching social and educational issue uncovers differences and similarities between the academic language that school children are exposed to at primary and secondary school contrasting this against the backdrop of the non academic language that they encounter outside school This book is important reading for advanced students and researchers in corpus linguistics applied linguistics and teacher education It carries implications for policymakers and schools looking to support students at this critical point in their schooling The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license     The Education Index ,1984     The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading Advertising Research Foundation,1942     The Schoolmasters Yearbook and Directory ,1903
