DI program design as it outlines a roadmap for teachers and school leaders on how to implement DI successfully Divided into three main sections the first section describes DI as a coherent and complete teaching and learning system that contrasts DI with lower case di or explicit instruction which focuses on effective instructional delivery techniques The second section provides a step by step guide to implementing DI The third section is devoted to cautions about implementing DI This section reinforces the notion that the physical possession of the DI curricula does not by itself lead to student success Those who adopt DI need to ensure that it is implemented with fidelity for the benefit of their students who are reliant on them to provide them with the means to achieve their academic potential so they may lead healthy productive lives A manual, a condensed system of medical diagnosis and treatment Charles Warrenne Allen,1899 Curriculum as Institution and Practice William A. Reid,2012-12-06 This volume brings together a collection of essays by William A Reid that present and elaborate the deliberative tradition of curriculum theory and examine the implications of a deliberative perspective for approaches to policy making and school systems The essays illustrate the development of Reid s understanding of the deliberative tradition and his efforts to extend it from a focus on practice to one that embraces conceptions of schooling as an institution Institution and practice are the key concepts which guide and illuminate the central thesis of the book To be effective a theory of curriculum must be able to talk not only about questions of desirable practice but also about questions of how practice may be aided or constrained by the nature of the institution within which it takes place This significant new contribution to the literature of curriculum studies represents a unique attempt to synthesize what have often been treated as quite separate issues questions of the philosophical basis for curriculum decision making questions of processes of decision making and questions of the nature of schools and classrooms presents its material in an evolutionary way focusing on the continuing development of ideas rather than on a rhetoric of conclusions and offers a summing up of thought and achievement in the deliberative tradition that is not otherwise available
