Access, Quality, and the Global Learning Crisis Sarah Kabay, 2021-08-26 Around the world 250 million children cannot read write or perform basic mathematics They represent almost 40% of all primary school aged children This situation has come to be called the global learning crisis and it is one of the most critical challenges facing the world today Work to address this situation depends on how it is understood Typically the global learning crisis and efforts to improve primary education are defined in relation to two terms access and quality This book is focused on the connection between them Through a mixed methods case study it provides detailed contextualized analysis of Ugandan primary education As one of the first countries in Sub Saharan Africa to enact dramatic and far reaching primary education policy Uganda serves as a compelling case study With both quantitative and qualitative data from over 400 Ugandan schools and communities the book analyzes grade repetition private primary schools and school fees viewing each issue as an illustration of the connection between access to education and education quality This analysis finds evidence of a positive association challenging a key assumption that there is a trade off or disconnect between efforts to improve access to education and efforts to improve education quality Embracing the complexity of education systems and focusing on dynamics where improvements in access and quality can be mutually reinforcing can be a new approach for improving basic education in different contexts around the world

West, Ludger Woessmann, 2021-04-27 Comparative analyses of the influence of public opinion on education policy in developed countries Although research has suggested a variety of changes to education policy that have the potential to improve educational outcomes politicians are often reluctant to implement such evidence based reforms Public opinion and pressure by interest groups would seem to have a greater role in shaping education policy than insights drawn from empirical data The construction of a comparative political economy of education that seeks to explain policy differences among nations is long overdue This book offers the first comparative inventory and analysis of public opinion and education in developed countries drawing on data primarily from Europe and the United States

Combat Zone Arthur Shapiro, 2018-07-01 Although in plain sight daily a highly successful war against the public schools has been hidden in the shadows of public consciousness Only very recently have several people written articles about this war with the only book calling it a war being written in 2002 Neither the public nor educators have become aware of the far reaching extent and effectiveness of this war This book treats this war as part of an extensive social movement that is conducting wars also against government and science as well as against women immigrants the poor but not against poverty and certainly against unions However the book focuses on the war against the public schools It sets the stage in Chapter One Checklist for Destroying Public Education followed by Chapter Two How the War Plays Out on the Battlefield Seven Examples that illustrate and prove the thesis One example involves a private for profit company that took over a school district in Michigan but found that they couldn't make a profit running the high school So what did they do They simply closed it leaving the students high and dry We provide a chapter analyzing the considerable profits being made by entrepreneurs businessmen politicians testing companies and charter schools We then describe and analyze the overt and covert attacks on our kids on teachers and on public schools such as the clever idea of grading schools A B C D or F thereby undermining public confidence in their local schools We focus on the arsenal of weapons aimed at the public schools such as privatization intrusion of politicians into educational decision making vouchers using merit pay and Value Added Models VAMs to evaluate teachers charter schools extremely intensive testing the standards movement etc We look at unintended consequences and conclude with attempts at peaceful resolutions and developing reconciliation strategies Reinventing America's Schools David Osborne,2017-09-05 From David Osborne the author of Reinventing Government a biting analysis of the failure of America s public schools and a comprehensive plan for revitalizing American education In Reinventing America s Schools David Osborne one of the world s foremost experts on public sector reform offers a comprehensive analysis of the charter school movements and presents a theory that will do for American schools what his New York Times bestseller Reinventing Government did for public governance in 1992 In 2005 when Hurricane Katrina devastated New Orleans the city got an unexpected opportunity to recreate their school system from scratch The state s Recovery School District RSD created to turn around failing schools gradually transformed all of its New Orleans schools into charter schools and the results are shaking the very foundations of American education Test scores school performance scores graduation and dropout rates ACT scores college going rates and independent studies all tell the same story the city s RSD schools have tripled their effectiveness in eight years Now other cities are following suit with state governments reinventing failing schools in Newark Camden Memphis Denver Indianapolis Cleveland and Oakland In this book Osborne uses compelling stories from cities like New Orleans and lays out the history and possible future of public education Ultimately he uses his extensive research to argue that in today s world we should treat every public school like a charter school and grant them autonomy accountability diversity of school designs and parental choice Promoting University-Industry Collaboration in Sri Lanka Kurt Larsen,Deepthi C. Journal of the Senate of the State of Indiana, 2015 South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI
