Informed is best Amy Brown, 2019 From the moment you share the news that you are pregnant or have a new baby it feels like everyone becomes an expert Did you see that headline Did you hear that story on TV Have you heard the latest about what they say is best In a world overflowing with information telling you what is best for you and your baby making decisions can feel overwhelming Who do you trust Who is telling the truth And how do you know if what they are saying is right for you How By becoming your own expert in sorting the media spin and politics from the actual facts and data This isn't a book that is going to tell you which decisions to make or that there is ever one right answer It is not going to tell you that the same thing is always best for everyone Instead this is a guide to help you evaluate information and evidence to decide what is right for you your body and your baby In three main parts it will firstly open your eyes to how information is shared in the media and how this can affect our thinking and decision making Next it will help you spot who is funding leading and promoting research and how this can affect the content of what is shared Finally it will talk you through reading understanding and evaluating evidence for yourself across topics in pregnancy birth and caring for babies You'll learn how to spot weaknesses in methods used how to determine the real risk for you and your baby and how wider context and other factors can influence what research means for you Information is power Making your own decisions that are right for you is empowering Informed is best

Superminds Thomas W. Malone, 2018-05-15 From the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence comes a fascinating look at the remarkable capacity for intelligence exhibited by groups of people and computers working together If you're like most people you probably believe that humans are the most intelligent animals on our planet But there's another kind of entity that can be far smarter groups of people In this groundbreaking book Thomas Malone the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence shows how groups of people working together in superminds like hierarchies markets democracies and communities have been responsible for almost all human achievements in business government science and beyond And these collectively intelligent human groups are about to get much smarter Using dozens of striking examples and case studies Malone shows how computers can help create more intelligent superminds simply by connecting humans to one another in a variety of rich new ways And although it will probably happen more gradually than many people expect artificially intelligent computers will amplify the power of these superminds by doing increasingly complex kinds of thinking Together these changes will have far reaching implications for everything from the way we buy groceries and plan business strategies to how we respond to climate change and even for democracy itself By understanding how these collectively intelligent groups work we can learn how to harness their genius to achieve our human goals Drawing on cutting edge science and insights from a remarkable range of disciplines Superminds articulates a bold and utterly fascinating picture of the future that will change the ways you work and live both with other people and with computers

Innovative Materials for Construction Mariaenrica Frigione, José Barroso de Aguiar, 2021-05-05 Most of the typical materials employed in today's constructions present limitations especially concerning their durability in either common or severe environmental conditions and their impact on the environment In response to these issues academic and industrial efforts around the world have been devoted to developing new smart materials that can provide efficient alternatives improve the energy efficiency of buildings or can upgrade repair or protect existing infrastructures Different and wide technological innovations are therefore quickly fostering advancements in the field of construction materials A new generation of materials bricks cement coatings concrete FRP glass masonry mortars nano materials PCM polymers steel wood etc is gaining a prominent position in modern building technology since they can overcome various limits and flaws of conventional materials employed in constructions without neglecting the smart applications of pioneering materials in ancient constructions and historic buildings Even though the adoption of innovative materials in the construction field has been a successful route in achieving enhanced performance or even new and unexpected characteristics some issues have not been completely solved On top of them the cost performance ratio of novel solutions since their introduction must be convenient without compromising quality Other concerns are related to their sustainability with eco friendly options possibly exploiting recycled materials or by products from other productions being the most desirable solution Finally the use of materials or systems that are unconventional in this field raises the need to update or develop new specifications and standards This special issue aims at providing a platform for discussing open issues challenges and achievements related to innovative materials proposed for the construction industry
