The EU Charter of Fundamental Rights in the Member States Michal Bobek, Jeremias Adams-Prassl, 2020-12-24 Ten years after the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union became part of binding primary law and twenty years since its adoption, this volume assesses the application of the EU Charter in the Member States. How often and in particular by which actors is the EU Charter invoked at the national level? In what type of situations is it used? Has the approach of national courts in general and of constitutional courts in particular to EU law to EU fundamental rights law changed following the entry into force of the Charter? What sort of interplay does the Charter generate with the national bill of rights and the European Convention? Is the life with the Charter on the national level a harmonious praktische Konkordanz or rather a messy mange trois? These and other questions are discussed in the four parts that form the book. Part I is dedicated to the normative foundations. Part II sets out Member States' Perspectives providing a structured in-depth account of the Charter's operation in 16 different Member States. Part III provides a detailed evaluation of selected rights contained within the Charter. Part IV synthesises the materials presented up to that point to develop a series of broader perspectives looking to discover underlying lessons about the relationship between EU fundamental rights law and national legal systems.

Theorizing Teaching and Learning in Asia and Europe John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2017-03-27 There has been much debate in recent times between the Anglo American tradition of curriculum studies and the Continental and North European tradition of didactics (Didaktik). As important as such debate has been, this book seeks to add new voices to the debate representing ideas and traditions from a different part of the world. The focus is on Chinese curriculum thinking that has passed through a number of stages and currently represents a blend of some aspects of the American tradition and Chinese cultural traditions. How does Chinese thinking about curriculum teaching and learning resonate with European didactic traditions and what are the implications for theorizing an expanded field of curriculum studies? This book deliberately transcends borders and cultures to explore new territory to provide a platform for open dialogue and to open up new areas of investigation. Chapters include Curriculum Reform and Research in China, A Social Historical Perspective, What Mathematics Did Teachers Learn, Comparison of the School and the Pre-Service Teacher
