

7th Grade Research Paper/Project Ideas and Booklet Information

Throughout the multi-week construction period, each seventh grade student will be required to work on and complete a research paper/project, which will be one part of a science competition booklet. If they are working as part of the team they may turn in a single project but both students are expected to contribute to the final project. The booklet must include final blueprints of their project and will be worth the equivalent of one test grade. The specific requirements are listed below. The bulk of the research needs to be completed at home, although if a student finishes building her competition project before the allotted time has elapsed, she may work on her booklet during class. The paper/project needs to be on a topic that is relevant to the science competition project being constructed. Some suggestions for research topics are listed below. The booklet is due the Friday after the science competition on May 6th.

Possible Research Topics for Individual Projects:

1. Glider: 1) A description of aerodynamics or aeronautical engineering. 2) The evolution of flying machines. 3) The history and science of flight. 4) Research NASA missions.
2. Egg Drop: 1) Discuss the recycling process or specifically the recycling process of paper (what percentage of paper or other materials are recycled, what happens to recycled paper or other materials, etc.). 2) Discuss natural resources, what is a natural resource, how is it acquired, is there an unlimited supply? 3) Use of cotton and natural fibers vs. synthetic materials in clothing. Are there advantages or disadvantages to one or the other?
3. Kite Building: 1) Research and discuss different types of kite models. Are there advantages or disadvantages to specific designs? 2) How long have kites been around and what cultures were the earliest users? 3) Have kites been used for anything other than recreational purposes?

Learning from the Federal Market?Based Reforms William J. Mathis,Tina M. Trujillo,2016-06-01 Over the past twenty years educational policy has been characterized by top down market focused policies combined with a push toward privatization and school choice The new Every Student Succeeds Act continues along this path though with decision making authority now shifted toward the states These market based reforms have often been touted as the most promising response to the challenges of poverty and educational disenfranchisement But has this approach been successful Has learning improved Have historically low scoring schools turned around or have the reforms had little effect Have these narrow conceptions of schooling harmed the civic and social purposes of education in a democracy This book presents the evidence Drawing on the work of the nation s most prominent researchers the book explores the major elements of these reforms as well as the social political and educational contexts in which they take place It examines the evidence supporting the most common school improvement strategies school choice reconstitutions or massive personnel changes and school closures From there it presents the research findings cutting across these strategies by addressing the evidence on test score trends teacher evaluation miracle schools the Common Core State Standards school choice the newly emerging school improvement industry and re segregation among others The weight of the evidence indisputably shows little success and no promise for these reforms Thus the authors counsel strongly against continuing these failed policies The book concludes with a review of more promising avenues for educational reform including the necessity of broader societal investments for combatting poverty and adverse social conditions While schools cannot single handedly overcome societal inequalities important work can take place within the public school system with evidence based interventions such as early childhood education detracking adequate funding and full service community schools all intended to renew our nation s commitment to democracy and equal educational opportunity A Parent's Guide to Virtual Learning Felicia Durden,2021-05-04 Every
