The Government Analytics Handbook Daniel Rogger, Christian Schuster, 2023-10-27. The Government Analytics Handbook presents frontier evidence and practitioner insights on how to leverage data to strengthen public administration. Covering a range of microdata sources such as administrative data and public servant surveys, as well as tools and resources for undertaking the analytics, it transforms the ability of governments to take a data-informed approach to diagnose and improve how public organizations work. Readers can order the book as a single volume in print or digital formats or visit worldbank.org/governmentanalytics for modular access and additional hands-on tools. The Handbook is a must-have for practitioners, policy makers, academics, and government agencies. Governments have long been assessed using aggregate governance indicators, giving us little insight into their diversity and how they can practically be improved. This pioneering handbook shows how microdata can be used to give scholars and practitioners granular and real insights into how states work and practical guidance on the process of state building. Francis Fukuyama, Stanford University author of State Building: Governance and World Order in the 21st Century. The Government Analytics Handbook is the most comprehensive work on practically building government administration I have ever seen, helping practitioners to change public administration for the better. Francisco Gaetani, Special Secretary for State Transformation, Government of Brazil. The machinery of the state is central to a country's prosperity. This handbook provides insights and methodological tools for creating a better shared understanding of the realities of a state to support the redesign of institutions and improve the quality of public administration. James Robinson, University of Chicago coauthor of Why Nations Fail. FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission, 2014

This report by the Northern Ireland Audit Office examines the effectiveness of Insolvency Service arrangements for administering the legislation on the disqualification of company directors of insolvent companies on the grounds of unfit conduct, including negligence, incompetence, or lack of commercial integrity. Conclusions of the report include that there is scope for the Insolvency Service to improve the performance management of practitioners, both Official Receiver staff and insolvency practitioners, by actively monitoring the number of submissions not filed on time and enforcing targets, the monitoring framework to ensure evidence of unfit conduct is assessed in a consistent manner, and communication arrangements with company directors and dissemination of key information, including drawing up a joint action plan with other parts of the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment.
