1. Introduction: The purpose of this study is to investigate the impact of social media on the mental health of young adults.

2. Methodology: A quantitative approach was used, involving a survey of 500 young adults aged 18-25. Data was collected through an online questionnaire.

3. Results: The study found a significant positive correlation between the amount of time spent on social media and the prevalence of anxiety and depression.

4. Conclusion: Excessive use of social media can lead to increased feelings of isolation and decreased self-esteem, which may contribute to mental health issues.

5. Recommendations: It is suggested that young adults limit their social media usage and engage in more offline activities to maintain better mental health.
